Experts Studying Bomb Possibility In Plane Disaster

Investigators Baffled At Cause Of Blast, Crash Fatal To 63

TELL CITY, Ind. (AP)—Frustrated experts regrouped today for a more intensive search for the reason a Northwest Airlines turboprop exploded in the air, and, like a tumbling missile, blasted a crater in a farm field killing all 63 persons aboard. They still included the possibility of a planted bomb.

The $2,300,000 Lockheed Electra blew up yesterday over Ohio River hill country about midway between Louisville, Ky., and Evansville, Ind.

It was the 10th major air distster in the world this year and raised the death toll to 401.

57 PASSENGERS

There were 57 passengers and six crew members on Northwest's flight from Minneapolis and Chicago to Miami, Fla.

"It's obvious the plane came apart in the air," said Ed Slatery, Civil Aeronautics Board information officer. "We will go through all the possibilities, including a bomb."

But a preliminary search through fields and hills, soggy from a heavy snow cover and becoming a quagmire in rising temperatures, turned up no information.

HUGE CRATER

The crater where the fuselage drilled into the ground and then nearly vanished in a fiery explosion still had blue-gray smoke curling from it today. The crater was 25 feet deep and 40 feet wide.

The huge hole was dug in a five-acre field on a hill farm a mile north of the Ohio River.

CAB pathologists started trying to identify victims.

The tail assembly of the four-engine plane was found in rough hill country a mile and a half east of the central crash scene.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation dispatched its disaster investigating team from Washington to see whether federal law had been violated in the crash through sabotage or otherwise.

The dead included:

Judge John A. Sharbaro, 70, of the Cook County (Chicago) Superior Court.

R. L. Oare, 47, of South Bend, Ind., board chairman of Associates Investment Co., the parent firm of Associates Loan Co., which has small loan offices all over the United States and Canda.

Safety Probe Of Sausalito Bayside Asked

Councilman George E. Keeney said today he will ask the Sausalito City Council at its April 5 meeting to make a complete investigation of how the waterfront area is equipped to meet fires.

Keeney said he would like the city to see what buildings in the area have overhead sprinklers which might help prevent such disastrous fires as the Madden and Lewis boatyard blaze Wednesday. He suggested that perhaps all new buildings in the area should be constructed of concrete.

Herbert J. Madden Sr., partner in the boatyard, said today he is hopeful that business records and property leases in a double-doored safe in the ruins may still be saved.

He said firemen have advised him he should wait four more days before attempting to open the safe, because of intense heat. There is a day and night watch, Madden said, over the still-smoldering ruins.

A benefit luncheon is planned to help David Morris, whose ceramics studio and home were ruined by the fire, get a new start in business.

The benefit will be at 1:30 p.m. March 26 at the Ondine restaurant in Sausalito. There will also be an auction of works donated by Sausalito artists and entertainers from San Francisco will perform.

Larkspur's 1st Mayor Dies

M. T. Gardiner, 74, first mayor of Larkspur, died of cancer yesterday at a hospital in La Jolla after a long illness.

He was a brother of San Rafael attorney Samuel W. Gardiner. Gardiner is survived by his wife, Lorraine, also of La Jolla; ;a sister, Mrs. Lillian Scouler of Rio Vista, and another brother, Paul C. Gardiner of Scotia, N. Y.

NOT-SO-FREE PARKING—The sign says "Free Parking," but this one is going to be costly. Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Lee, who live in an apartment above the barber shop in Larkspur's Rainbow Market building, ran down to see what had hit the building at 1:30 this morning. They said they thought it was an earthquake. The car shown, owned by the San Rafael Glass Co., was parked in front. Another car rammed this one against the structure. (George Wheeler photo)

LAGUNITAS COMPLAINT

Punishment Row Aired In Secret

The Lagunitas School Board held an executive session last night centering around a complaint about a teacher involving board policy on corporal punishment. Trustees decided to retain the teacher but restrict his teaching schedule.

The executive meeting was the fifth item of an agenda of 10, and consideration of other items was open to the public. About 30 parents attended and several testified during the executive session held in a room apart.

Announcement was made by Leslie Stone, board president, after the closed session that the teacher would be kept to his work with the sixth grade. The teacher was not mentioned by name at any time in the open meeting.

Stone's statement was taken by some parents to mean that

DOGS WERE ON AGENDA; BAT WASN'T

An estimated 4,000 dogs and one stray bat consumed one hour of the Novato City Council's time last night.

The dogs took 40 minutes of the hour, the time required to read, in its entirety, the Marin County animal control law which Novato adopted as its own.

The bat, which flew into the city hall as soon as the dogs were legally cared for, flew out 20 minutes later, spurred by the frantic armwaving of assorted city officials.

The dog law sets up administrative procedure for the Marin County Humane Society and requires, among other things, that dogs be leashed or under control. It also sets fees for licensing and keeping.

The entry of the bat was not covered by law.

Trail Of Water Lands Hit-Run Suspect In Jail

A trail of water on Larkspur's Magnolia and West Baltimore avenues led to the arrest of a hit-run driving suspect after an extensive property damage accident in that city early today.

Larkspur police booked Joseph Noel Ratto, 21, of 1330 Butterfield road, Sleepy Hollow, at county jail on charges of hit-run and drunken driving.

DENIES FAULT

Police Chief Howard Clark said Ratto has denied responsibility for the 1:30 a.m. crash, which totally wrecked a parked car and knocked out a corner of the Rainbow Market building at 483 Magnolia avenue. The front end of Ratto's car was badly damaged.

Several witnesses have identified the youth as the responsible driver, Clark reported.

He said Officer George Newman was en route to the accident scene when he discovered a trail of water running south on Magnolia. On the hunch it would lead him to the suspect, Newman followed the trail to 236 West Baltimore.

NABS SUSPECT

Ratto's car was parked outside the house and the suspect, suffering from a cut lip and broken front tooth, was inside. Newman drove him to Marin General Hospital for treatment, then returned him to the accident scene.

Before he was taken to jail, the youth was interrogated at the police department by Chief Clark and Officer Charles Mattos.

The chief said the southbound auto slammed into a parked car owned by the San Rafael Glass Co., knocking it across the sidewalk and into the brick facing of the market building.

Assembly Unit Cuts Budget $4.5 Million

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Assembly Ways and Means Committee today sent the house a record-breaking budget totaling $2,472,500,000, about four and one-half million dollars below the figure submitted by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The total is some 180 million dollars over estimated expenditures for the present fiscal year ending June 30.

The committee approved the budget on a voice vote after speedy action on a few remaining items.

Robert L. Harkness, assistant state finance director, warned the committee, however, that key items still pending would trim the four and one-half million-dollar surplus down to $375,000 it approved.

The committee did not act on a proposed smog control program of 1.9 million dollars and has turned down two and one-half million dollars involved in a dispute over printing of textbooks.

The committee action clears the way for debate by the full house early next week, probably Tuesday. The budget session ends next Saturday.

The bill went immediately to the waiting Assembly so it could be processed for speedy action.

Big Marin Sport-Boat Show To Open Tonight

The seventh annual Marin Rod and Gun Club Sports Boat and Travel Show begins tonight at 6 o'clock at the Bermuda Palms in San Rafael and will continue through Sunday.

The show is being held in recognition of "National Wildlife Week," which begins Monday. Boat, gun, fishing rod and other sporting exhibits will be featured, including skin diving exhibits and water ballet performances.

This is the only sports show in the state sponsored by sportsmen and the only show the proceeds of which go to active conservation programs, said co-chairmen, Barney De Bisschop and John Marzetta.

The event has already received recognition and tribute. Gov. Edmund G. Brown today said the "Marin Rod and Gun Club is to be highly commended for scheduling" the show to emphasize National Wildlife Week.

The governor further said in a released statement with a gold seal that "The work of organizations such as this one in Marin County in promoting conservation of our precious natural resources is a fine example to all Californians concerned with the future enjoyment of those who will come after them."

San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis, in recognition of the club's "dedication to the conservation of wildlife," proclaimed this weekend as "Marin Rod and Gun Club Days."

West Asks World Census Of Arms

Called First Step To Disarmament Treaty

GENEVA (AP)—The Western powers today proposed a world-wide census of existing armed forces and weapons as a first step toward a disarmament treaty.

French disarmament expert Jules Moch made the suggestion on behalf of the five Western delegations at another closed session of the 10-nation disarmament conference.

He said the control of any agreed disarmament measures would be an illusion without full information on the size and strength of existing armed forces.

Echoing the West's most insistent demand, Moch said adequate control and inspection to insure compliance must be an integral part of any disarmament agreement.

He declared that one of the first and most urgent tasks before the conference is to agree that an inspection system would not be regarded as an espionage operation, a charge repeatedly made by the Soviet Union.

Moch said that if control provisions in Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's plan for disarmament over a four-year period were really sincere, they may indicate a first step toward East-West understanding on this subject.

From Moscow, however, Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, made clear that the Soviet government has not abandoned its basic opposition to the Western demand that a control system be worked out before the major powers agree to disarm.

In a leading editorial and a dispatch from its correspondent at the Geneva conference, the paper insisted on approval of Khrushchev's plan for a "total and general disarmament."

Moch told the conference controls are necessary because no disarmament agreement could rule out the possibility of secret violations.

He listed three essentials for the starting point of any control system:

1. The system must have means to verify the size and striking power of the nation's armed forces before beginning on any agreed reductions.

2. The system must be ready to operate simultaneously with any agreed disarmament measure.

3. An international force of inspectors must be in place in all countries from the start of any disarmament agreement to supervise missile launching sites, arms, depots and stocks of fissionable materials.

Fourth Demo Enters Race For Assembly

Edward K. Wachsman, young Terra Linda insurance executive, today became the fourth Democratic candidate to announce candidacy for the Assembly seat in the Marin-Sonoma District.

At the same time, there were rumors that Nick Kobseff, Nicasio restaurant owner, another Democrat, also is considering entering the race to fill retiring Richard H. McCollister's Assembly seat.

TAM HIGH GRAD

Wachsman, 28, an insurance broker specializing in estate planning and business insurance, is a graduate of Tamalpais High School, College of Marin and University of California at Berkeley in political science.

After graduation he served two years in the Marine Corps, then was selected one of 12 college graduates in the state to participate in a nine-month Coro Foundation study of municipal and state government.

Born in Kansas City, Mo., Wachsman moved to California when he was 2 years old and to San Anselmo 12 years ago. He now lives at 539 Thyme Place, Terra Linda, with his wife, the former Karin Ostlind of Stockholm, Sweden, and their 19-month-old son, Eric.

TRANS-BAY SEARCH

Man Jailed After He Flees Crash; 2 Hurt

A head-on collision near Olema last night resulted in injuries to three persons, search for one driver by both California Highway Patrol and the Marin County sheriff's office, and his eventual apprehension in Albany.

Thomas E. Porter, 22, of Point Reyes, as a result was in the county jail this morning on charges of felony hit-run and personal injury.

Dora Juanita Conkle, 35, of Forest Knolls, and her passenger, Evelyn C. Piaszk, 34, also of Forest Knolls, were both in fair condition in Marin General Hospital for observation with possible concussions as well as numerous cuts and bruises.

Cars driven by Porter and Miss Conkle collided about 7 p.m. on a curve of the Shoreline Highway between Olema and Pt. Reyes Station.

CHP investigators arrived to find the victims being put into an ambulance following emergency treatment. Both cars were damaged, but the other driver had gone.

"He went running off through an artichoke patch," one witness volunteered. Porter's identity was ascertained and search was made at his house in Point Reyes Station, while the sheriff's office also checked Olema.

A neighbor said Porter had just come home, obviously "in a hurry," and had departed in an old car after loading it with garments. Then a brother in Point Reyes Station said there was another brother living in Albany, so the sheriff's office in San Rafael notified Albany that Porter was wanted on two charges.

Subsequent investigation disclosed that Porter had gone to Albany. After a short time, however, he decided to give up and surrender to local authorities.

The action became known to the sheriff's office in San Rafael through a phone call from from Patrolman Bruce McLeod of the Albany police who phoned that Porter had been taken in custody "near Richmond" and would be held. He had cuts on his head and an injured leg, the report said.

ONE OF THE LUCKY ONES

Anxious hands reach for an unidentified tunnel worker, helping him to the surface after a fire and explosion trapped six men in a Toronto, Canada, sewer tunnel last night. Two of the workmen, including this man, escaped with their lives. One body has been recovered. And a search continues for the other three men, believed dead. A cable to a welding torch caught fire, filling the 36-inch tunnel with fumes which exploded. (AP Wirephoto)

Arrests Fail To Halt Negro Demonstrators

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Negro sit-down demonstrators continued to troop through the jails and courts of the South today, but showed no signs of forsaking the lunch counter battlefront.

Negro spectators marched straight from the trial of five demonstrators at Little Rock, Ark., to enter downtown stores in new protests against segregation.

In two other cities swift police action averted near riots, but not before blows were struck in one incident.

BLOWS STRUCK

A group of white men and youths used their fists on four Negro college students leaving a St. Augustine, Fla., variety store after staging a sit-down protest. Police Chief Virgil Stuart held off a crowd of white persons with a riot gun loaded with tear gas while other officers hustled the Negroes into a taxi which sped them away. The crowd then quickly broke up.

Hundreds of whites and Negroes stood on opposite sides of a Savannah, Ga., street and hurled insults at each other during a St. Patrick's Day parade. But police dispersed the jeering mob before any blows were struck.

There were new arrests at New Bern, N. C., where 29 Negroes were jailed on trespassing charges and released under $25 bonds after refusing to leave lunch counters at two stores.

COUNTERS CLOSED

A dozen Negro college students sat for an hour at a Charlotte, N. C., lunch counter but there were no arrests or incidents.

The Little Rock demonstrators were not arrested. Managers of the five stores invaded closed their lunch counters and the Negroes left. The five tried in municipal court for a demonstration a week ago drew $250 fines and 30-day jail sentences. Their attorney said there will be an appeal.

Students at South Carolina State College for Negroes at Orangeburg were warned they would be expelled if they participated in any further demonstrations like Wednesday's mass protest.

Wife Gets Divorce, Children, Home, Support Payments

Dr. Douglas E. Ramsey, Kentfield orthopedic surgeon, must pay $600 per month support for his three children and $300 per month alimony to his wife, under a divorce property settlement approved yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

The alimony to Mrs. Roberta J. Ramsey will be reduced to $200 per month from June, which means the surgeon will be paying a total of $800 per month thereafter.

Judge Thomas F. Keating granted the interlocutory divorce decree to Mrs. Ramsay on grounds of extreme cruelty. A criminal charge of battery, brought by Mrs. Ramsey against her husband, is still pending in municipal court.

Dr. Ramsey did not contest the divorce action. Mrs. Ramsey gets physical custody of the three children and their home at 43 Kent avenue.

Drunk Driver Draws $150 Fine, Probation

Richard John Curry, 42, San Rafael driver-salesman and part-time bartender, must pay a $150 fine and remain on six months probation for his first drunken driving offense.

He was sentenced by Judge Leonard A. Thomas in Marin Municipal Court for driving while intoxicated on Humboldt street in San Rafael last Feb. 17. Curry lives at 123 Humboldt street.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Million Miles Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pioneer V passed the million-mile mark early today in its race toward an orbit around the sun. Its voice—a high steady tone like a radio time signal—came back loud and clear over that vast distance.

It was the farthest by far that mankind has sent an intelligible signal—and Pioneer is expected to keep up its flow of space data back to earth for many more millions of miles.

Ban On 'Going Steady'

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — The principal of Allentown Central Catholic High School has issued an edict barring pupils from going steady.

Rev. Stephen J. Daday said yesterday the new order was based on the belief steady dating "has many serious consequences for high school students."

Dixie Demo Secession?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Jamie L. Whitten (D-Miss.) says he and 31 other Southern congressmen may leave the Democratic party if they don't get better treatment from the House leadership.

If the group should follow through with its threat, the move possibly could give Republicans control of the next House without winning the election.

Chiang Unopposed

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—The National Assembly announced formally today that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek will be the only candidate in Monday's Nationalist Chinese presidential election.

The two minority parties which have nominated candidates in previous presidential elections had issued statements earlier saying they would support Chiang for a third term.

Actor Strike Talks

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Negotiators for Hollywood's actors and the major producers continue talks today, hoping to end the 10-day-old actors' strike.

Negotiations lasted three hours yesterday and produced a feeling of qualified optimism. A joint statement said both sides were "hopeful of making progress."

Royal Wedding On TV

LONDON (UPI) — Permission was granted today to make Princess Margaret's marriage the first royal wedding in history to be televised live.

Cameras and microphones will be placed in Westminster Abbey on May 6 to broadcast and televise Margaret's wedding to former photographer Anthony Armstrong-Jones as it happens.

Storms Ease Off

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow ended in most of the storm-swept sections in the eastern half of the country today and heavy rains tapered off in drenched areas of central Florida.

The fourth major snowstorm of the month, which hit wide areas from the plains to Virginia, appeared dying out. Only light snow fell in northern New England and snow flurries were reported in the Great Lakes region and upper Ohio Valley.

Weather Fails Irish

NEW YORK (AP)—A valiant army of marchers yesterday braved the foulest St. Patrick's Day weather in almost a generation.

But rain, wind, fog and cold cut the ranks of paraders and the number of spectators.

Instead of an expected 120,000 marchers, there were fewer than 75,000.

Gambols, Loses

CBS fired the 45-year-old actor shortly after he pleaded innocent to a misdemeanor charge of lewd vagrancy. The network gave no reason for the action.

Talman and six others are accused of gamboling—without garments—at a Hollywood party last week. His trial was set for April 25.

Actress Sues Mate

SAN FERNANDO (AP) — Actress Marie McDonald has sued her third husband for divorce, alleging extreme mental cruelty.

She and Lou Bass, a film agent, were married 10 months ago. Miss McDonald said in her complaint yesterday that there is no community property. She formerly was married to shoe manufacturer Harry Karl and actor's agent Vic Orsatti.

U.S. Hopes To Hike Its Foreign Sales

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government hopes that, by spending about 10 million dollars to promote exports, it can increase the foreign sales of American industry another two to four billion dollars a year.

President Eisenhower announced the government-wide export promotion program yesterday, and asked Congress for a supplemental appropriation to get the program rolling in the year starting July 1.

Undersecretary of Commerce Philip A. Ray, head of the inter-agency task force organizing the drive, told reporters the initial request probably will be for only about five million dollars.

But when the campaign gains full momentum, he said, the cost may run 10 to 12 million dollars a year, largely to increase the staffs of the Commerce and Agriculture departments and to more than double the number of commercial attaches at American embassies.

The current rate of export shipments, Ray said, is about 18 billion dollars a year. This, if sustained, will be an increase of about two and one-half billion dollars in 1960 over the 1959 total.

It is hoped, Ray said, that the promotion effort will provide an additional 10 to 20 per cent increase in annual sales, thereby adding roughly two to four billion dollars a year to the nation's foreign trade volume.

Imports are expected to increase also, Ray said, but at a slower rate. The net result should be a significant decrease in the size of the U. S. deficit in international payments, which amounted to $3,700,000,000 last year.

Think small.

The Volkswagen is 4 feet shorter than a conventional car, yet has as much leg room up front as many big cars. 18 college students have gotten into a sunroof VW; a tight fit. Mother, father and three growing kids suit it nicely. So does regular gas, in surprisingly tiny amounts. The VW uses only 5 pints of oil, and you can forget about adding any between changes.

Volkswagen spare parts are inexpensive. The Authorized Dealer price for a new front fender is $21.75.* A cylinder head, $19.95.* The nice thing is, they're seldom needed.

Another nice thing: a new Volkswagen is $1675* Other than radio and side view mirror, we can't think of anything important that isn't included at the price.

You think about it, too. And while you have it in mind, come in and drive one.

$2.5-Million Fire Hits San Pedro Waterfront

SAN PEDRO (UPI)—A waterfront fire raged for seven hours last night on creosote-covered piling, causing an estimated two and a half million dollars damage to docks and waterfront facilities.

It took several hundred firemen to bring it under control.

The spectacular blaze destroyed the partially completed two-million dollar Matson Steamship Co. terminal dock and nearly 2,000 feet of the complex of docks used by Matson. A barge also was destroyed and a warehouse damaged.

Black, billowing clouds of smoke caused mostly by the blazing creosote, an oily wood preservative, were visible in downtown Los Angeles, 25 miles away.

No boats were destroyed nor firemen injured, but the Hawaiian Farmer, a Matson freighter, and some 100 yachts in the harbor had to be moved across the anchorage, away from the flames.

Hendrickson Trial In Final Arguments

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Final arguments began today in the case of John R. Hendrickson, 40, accused of embezzling $3,740,000 from a Long Beach bank.

Hendrickson, of San Rafael, yesterday admitted he lied to George Hewlett, 40, cashier at the U.S. National Bank of San Diego's Long Beach branch, to obtain more money for his enterprises.

Under cross-examination by Asst. U.S. Attorney Bruce A. Bevan Jr., Hendrickson said he misrepresented his financial worth to Hewlett. The cashier committed suicide May 2 while the bank's books were being audited. He left a note confessing the embezzlement and implicating Hendrickson.

Shortly before the defense rested its case, Hendrickson insisted he did not know that the cashier was, as he put it, "stealing" the money.

A jury of seven men and five women is hearing the case in the courtroom of Federal Judge Alexander Bicks.

Police Lack Definite Clues In Park Slaying Of Three

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP) — Police sifted through possible clues today in the search for leads to the slaying of three socially prominent women.

But Supt. William Morris of the Illinois state police said, "we haven't got anything definite." He added police would question two or three men in connection with the fatal bludgeoning of the women in Starved Rock State Park. He declined to identify them.

Morris said that several tufts of hair found in the hand of one of the victims, Mrs. Lillian Oetting, 50, were sent to the state police laboratory in Springfield for microscopic examination. Morris declined to say whether the hair might have been torn from the slayer's head in a death struggle.

Also sent to the police lab were slivers of bark removed from Mrs. Oetting's skull. Technicians were to compare the bits of bark with a gnarled three-foot long tree limb found alongside the women's bodies at the closed end of picturesque St. Louis Canyon. The tree limb was blood-smeared and authorities said it could have been used in the bludgeon-slaying of the women.

A search group found the bodies of Mrs. Oetting, whose husband, George, is an Illinois Bell Telephone Co. executive; Mrs. Frances Murphy, 47, wife of Robert Murphy, a vice president of Borg-Warner Corp., and Mrs. Mildred Lindquist, 50, wife of Robert Lindquist, a Harris Trust and Savings Bank executive, Wednesday. Police established the women were slain early Monday afternoon.

Lawyers Try To Raise Bail For Carole

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Carole Tregoff's lawyers hope to arrange today the $25,000 bail on which she can leave jail.

Judge John G. Barnes approved bail for her yesterday.

The red-haired codefendant in the Finch murder case was in her 162nd day behind bars as her family and attorneys sought the bond.

Her stepmother, Gladys Tregoff, said she and her husband, James, are broke and unable to produce the $2,625 fee and collateral for a $25,000 bond.

Carole's lawyers conferred with various bail bondsmen yesterday and planned to meet with them again today hopeful, they said, that "things will improve."

Tears of joy streamed down Miss Tregoff's pretty face when she heard she can go free on bail.

resentation in government," Wachsman said. "We must have thoughtful and aggressive public servants and I would consider it an honor to serve my district."

He lists five items as "programs for which I will work if elected":

1. A dependable rapid transit system for the Bay Area.

2. Criminal code revision to tighten parole regulations for multi-time offenders.

3. A tightening up of "the misuse of state funds," in cases like the recently criticized contract negotiations of the state Division of Highways.

4. School district consolidations to "eliminate waste and duplication of administrative work."

5. Close examination of the whole state financial picture.

Other Democratic candidates already announced include Mrs. Helen Putnam of Petaluma, Joseph G. Wilson of San Rafael and Harold E. Payton of San Anselmo. Only Republican in thus far is William T. Bagley of San Rafael.

Possibility that Nick Kobseff, 43, will enter the race was not denied by the proprietor of Rancho Nicasio. He said he has been "approached" by friends to run. He is making no statement on his decision, although rumor has it he will run if he gets proper financial backing. Kobseff is a Democrat.

MEETING

the teacher would not continue work with seventh and eighth grade classes but would be in a "self-contained" sixth grade group.

It was understood that deliberations in the closed session centered partly around a disciplinary issue as to whether the teacher had violated a recent policy on corporal punishment, or had merely taken a measure of necesesary restraint.

The board last Jaunary decided that any corporal punishment would be confined to spanking, which would be administered not by the teacher but by a principal in the presence of a parent.

Supt. Clifford L. Freye said this morning it had not been determined if the action in question had been one of corporal punishment or of necessary restraint.

It was learned that the recent incident which was the subject of complaint did not involve spanking. But the teacher's action appears to have been pictured by some of the testifying parents as required to preserve discipline, and definable as restraint rather than punishment.

BUDGET

In a meeting that ran until late last night, the Assembly committee:

1. Deleted the whole $900,000 appropriation for the state Disaster Office, which if upheld by the full Legislature would abolish the agency.

2. Approved a 5 per cent across-the-board salary increase for 120,000 state employees at a cost of 24 million dollars a year, rejecting higher raises sought by college and university teachers, mental hospital workers and state correctional officers. The 5 per cent was Brown's proposal.

3. Approved $50,000 to operate the special five-man Crime Commission on the Narcotics Problem, part of Brown's seven-point narcotics program. Approval came over Republican complaints that the commission would be a "whitewash."

4. Voted an extra $200,000 for Atascadero State Hospital, where criminally insane are kept.

5. Approved $90,000 for operation of a governor's commission to study the laws on criminal insanity.

6. Restored $37,000 for the staff of the Citizens Advisory Committee on Aging, plus $50,000 for a study of aging problems by the Social Welfare Department. Both sums had been deleted Wednesday night.

Novato Population Hits 15,390 As Census Continues

Novato's population — as of the census takers' quitting time last night—is 15,390.

J. Herbert Bamford, federal census enumerator who is conducting the special census for the city, and his assistants today were counting the Hamilton Air Force Base population. The census, which began on March 7, may be completed next Tuesday.

The population of the city, which voted to incorporate Jan. 12, has been estimated at 15,000 to 22,000.

Handicapped Care Class Starts Soon

An eight-week course for teen-agers in caring for the handicapped will began Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at Redwood High School in Larkspur with Robert E. Foster of Mill Valley instructing.

Entitled "Introduction to the Problems of the Handicapped," the course is an extension of a program begun by Foster last year at Tamalpais High School. Students attending the course automatically become members of the Handicappers, an organiziation devoted to informing young people about the problems of handicapped children.

The Handicapper program, aided last year by the United Cerebral Palsy affiliate of Marin and the San Rafael Kiwanis Club, also is receiving support this year from the American Legion.

"Many of these young men and women have had wonderful experiences in taking care of the handicapped this past year," Foster said. "Mothers constantly use them to babysit, knowing that the instruction enables them to understand the handicapped child's particular needs."

Auction Scheduled By Marin Artists

An art auction will be conducted by the Marin Society of Artists at its gallery at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross starting at 2 p.m. Sunday, April 3.

Members of the society are being asked to contribute weaving, ceramics, oil paintings, mosaics, prints, water colors, sculpture and other arts and crafts objects.

"Silent bids" will be received until 4 p.m. after which there will be verbal bidding.

OBITUARIES

E. A. Turpin, Mariner, Dies At 57

Capt. Edward A. Turpin, a native of Mill Valley, co-author of the Merchant Marine Officer's Handbook and master of the California Maritime Academy training ship Golden Bear, died last night in Public Health Service Hospital in San Francisco after he had a heart attack aboard ship a few hours earlier.

Turpin was returning the Golden Bear from a Caribbean cruise when he had the fatal attack. A Coast Guard cutter took him ashore to the hospital.

The veteran seaman, who once attended San Rafael Military Academy, was 57. He is survived by his wife, Gladys Turpin of Vallejo.

His commands included United Fruit Co. merchant ships and Navy ships in the Atlantic and the Pacific in World War II and the Korean War.

QUITS CASTRO—Rufo Lopez Frequest resigned yesterday as Cuban finance minister, officially for reasons of health. But many observers, who considered him the last remaining moderate in Premier Fidel Castro's cabinet, thought the real reason was clash of financial policies. His resignation came at the same time Cuba's representative to the Inter-American Defense Board, Lt. Cmdr. Miguel Pons, resigned with a blast at Castro's "Communist style dictatorship." Red Chinese Give Bishop Prison Term

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China announced today it had imprisoned the bishop of Shanghai for life for his part in a spy ring it said was set up by Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York and American Bishop James E. Walsh.

Bishop Walsh was sentenced to 20 years in prison.

The Peiping broadcast said 14 other Roman Catholics were jailed for alleged crimes against communism.

Bishap Walsh, 68, of the Maryknoll Order of New York and a native of Cumberland, Md., was under house arrest in Shanghai from 1951 when he refused to accept an exit permit until October, 1958, when he was accused of espionage. There has been no report of a trial.

He simply disappeared in Shanghai 17 months ago.

The bishop of Shanghai was Rt. Rev. Kung Ping-Mei, who had headed the Shanghai Diocese since August, 1950. Peiping said he was an "imperialistic agent who has all along set himself firmly against communism and the people."

The Communist New China news agency in a broadcast monitored in Tokyo said Kung and the others worked under a plan devised by Bishop Walsh and said Walsh was originally sent to China by the Vatican with Cardinal Spellman under orders to set up an anti-revolutionary organization.

Californians for Stevenson will inaugurate their Marin County campaign tomorrow on behalf of Adlai E. Stevenson for president, it was announced today.

The group will commence taking signatures favoring Stevenson as the Democratic party nominee. The signatures will be presented to the California delegation to the Democratic national convention.

Drake Physics Teacher Plans Summer Training

Physics teacher Rudolph B. Genetti of Sir Francis Drake High School is one of 20 Bay Area instructors selected to work this summer at the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory at the University of California.

The eight-week training session includes lectures by science authorities, Genetti said, and assignment to an experimental research group.

Genetti expects to work in the area of electronics or with the bevatron.

CRAZY, MAN, CRAZY — This odd assortment of objects, including a piano and bathtub, destroys itself in a frenzy of flapping, rattling and fire in a lunatic show at New York's Museum of Modern Art last night. The contraption was called "Homage to New York." (AP Wirephoto)

TEARS SELF APART

Gadget To End All Gadgets Delights New York Crowd

NEW YORK (AP)—A machine whose whole purpose in life was to destroy itself did just that last night in one of the most amusing lunatic shows ever to pass under the name of modern art.

The creature, composed of wheels, bathtub, piano, radio, addressograph machine, child's cart and assorted other objects, reared up 27 feet high in the garden of the Museum of Modern Art.

While an irate objector outside passed out a leaflet bemoaning the project as godless, an audience of about 500 saw "Homage to New York" rattle, flap, shake, hammer and burn itself to pieces.

It was so successful at self-destruction that the fire department had to train extinguishers on flames eating up the piano too fast. Loyal to art, the audience booed this interference, but the staunch firemen went right ahead — and for a minute it seemed that engines would be called to help.

The object was by the Swiss-born sculptor, Jean Tinguely, a slight, black-haired, smiling and very begrimed fellow who bowed contentedly in response to the warm applause that greeted his novel venture.

It was a gadget to end all gadgets—and it almost ended itself.

Fifteen motors controlled by eight timers ran some 80 bicycle wheels of all sizes. Pictures painted themselves frenziedly on paper unwound from revolving disks. A saw worked back and forth on the piano's underpinning. The cart rolled to and fro. Hammers and mallets struck tin cans and oil drums in varying rhythms. A great golden balloon inflated at the peak of the machine. Smoke pots belched forth clouds that coked the onlookers.

It ran half an hour, when with a whoosh one section tumbled sidewise to the ground. Then a second, waving a red and white pennant, ran outside. A third, with a klaxon that didn't work, scooted out from under and dashed for nowhere. A fourth part collapsed.

It did not quite live up to its billing. It was Tinguely in person, with a band of helpers, who put most of it together in the afternoon. But it did paint its own pictures, and it spoke its own pieces, from a record, explaining what it was all about. Some bottles were supposed to crash to the ground and didn't. The balloon was scheduled to burst but failed to. The fire did get out of control and was extinguished at the sculptor's request.

Marinites To Open S. F. Restaurant

San Francisco's newest restaurant, owned by two San Rafael men, will celebrate its grand opening tonight.

Lou and Dom Magliulo have invited their friends to the opening of their Crow's nest, located on Pier 37 of the Embarcadero.

The resturant and cocktail lounge, with view of the bay, is an annex to the Magliulos' long-established Lou and Dom's bar and restaurant.

The restaurant specialty, the owners said, will be charcoal broiled prime rib, plus an assortment of seafood salads and cocktails. The cocktail lounge will be open from 11 a.m. to 2 a.m. daily, and food will be served from 4 to 11 p.m. each day.

Do you like chili sauce on your custard or crack coconuts with your teeth? And are you afraid that these little eccentricities will mark you as an oddball? Well according to a certain famous London psychiatrist, you can stop worrying. Because the doc says it's perfectly normal to have some harmless little peculiarity. One of his patients counted girl's teeth when he talked to them. "Normal," says the doctor. Another shook imaginary scorpions out of his shoes before putting them on. "Nothing wrong with that," claims the doc. And another patient bought cabbage to feed a tortoise he didn't even have. And still the doc says, "No problem." This should make all of us with eccentric little habits feel better . . . but we do kind of wonder what the doc does when no one is looking.

Hopefuls Air Views On Sausalito Issues

Nine candidates for the Sausalito City Council spoke last night on the master plan, the waterfront, council manager form of government and public funds at a town meeting sponsored by the Sausalito Citizens Council.

The field of 10 candidates dropped to nine with William H. Ryan, Sausalito editor and publisher, announcing by letter his withdrawal because of the pressure of business.

Chairman Byron Mayo told a crowd of approximately 200, "The idea of a town meeting is in the very best democratic tradition. We are pleased to note that there are people here from all parts of Sausalito."

Philip S. Ehrlich Jr., incumbent, 37, an attorney, said his three basic principles in city government are a deep abiding belief in planning, a belief that private property rights should be protected, and a sound fiscal policy.

Ehrlich favors acquiring property in Shelter Cove for Sausalito and stopping development there. He wishes to keep an open mind, he said, on the zoning ordinance and feels it should be studied thoroughly, not raced through.

Michael Harris, 37, newspaper reporter, favors the master plan, preserving the waterfront and views, and is in favor of land purchase to accomplish this. Harris also favors the city manager system. He said, "we hear people say Sausalito cannot afford things — playgrounds, a larger library. Good government is not necessarily an expensive government.

Mrs. Helen Kerr, 47, editor of Marin This Month, said the master plan does not go far enough. It treats the waterfront in the same amount of space as the quarries, she said. Mrs. Kerr wants Sausalito to remain primarily a residential town; she, too favors city manager form of government.

L. Stuart Linton, 37, architect and builder, wants changes in the master plan. He said, "indiscriminate seeking after tourist tax dollars will not enrich the town." He favors bringing traffic in from the north of town and stopping it before it gets to downtown Sausalito. Linton suggests a civic center in the heart of town, and favors a city manager.

Mayo read a statement by candidate Leonard Pieraccini. Pieraccini said, "Sausalito should not be subjected to whims of fast developers. This is our city; we should handle our own problems without outside professionals, without indulging in deficit spending."

Edward L. Ripley, 28, stock and bond broker, favors the master plan, but feels it is out of date. He does not favor the zoning ordinance as it now stands. Ripley believes in exercising control over development in Sausalito and feels that money could be raised to preserve the waterfront.

Mayor Howard Sievers, 48, incumbent, electrical engineer, said the existing zoning ordinance is out of date although it is basically sound. "Without a capital improvement program, a master plan will never be accepted," he said. He urges a committee for development of the Marinship area, and favors encouraging and controlling business, a new city hall, police station and a city manager.

Serge Trubach, 48, artist and lecturer, said, "I approve of the master plan provided the almighty is the master." He favors a park, library, museum, city hall and police station on the sandspit. Trubach believes in electing people to the council who live in Sausalito, and is against people coming to the city just "to make a quick buck." In closing, Trubach said, "Give me liberty or give me Westlake."

Carl Wooley, 65, builder, favors overhauling the master plan. He said that neither the subdivisions nor zoning ordinance fits the city's needs. On the waterfront, Wooley believes, public boat landings and beautification should be added when Richardson street is widened. He favors remodeling the present city hall and the hiring of a manager, and is against spending anything more at present on site or detail planning.

Novato Seeking Consultant In City Planning

At the first of at least two meetings devoted to hearing sales pitches from planning consultant firms, the city council and planning commission last night heard Lawrence Livingston Jr. of Sausalito offer a tentative general plan.

Although the council reached no decision, on hiring a planning consultant, councilmen indicated the city could not afford to be without one.

2ND MEETING

Next Monday night the combined groups will listen to a similar presentation by Herman Ruth, Oakland planning consultant.

Livingston urged the city to apply immediately for federal funds for planning needs.

The money, he said, is available through the U.S. Urban Renewal Administration which pays half the costs of comprehensive planning projects, for cities of less than 50,000 population.

Livingston put no definite price tag on a general plan for Novato, but said such a plan for Petaluma, a city of comparable size, cost $30,000.

TO PAY HALF

Of this amount, under the federal-aid plan, the city must pay half of its 50 per cent share in cash. The remaining $7,500 can be paid for in city services such as map making, surveying and similar services the city might perform itself.

Livingston also suggested that as an immediate starter the city engage his firm to prepare a land use and circulation policy, a rough outline of the city's needs which would serve as a guide until a comprehensive general plan can be prepared.

The cost of this, he said, would run around $500.

The immediate step Novato should take, he said, is a review of the North Marin master plan, the zoning ordinance and the subdivision ordinance. If these do not meet the city's needs, he said, they should be revised, or new ones drawn up.

He suggested a committee of citizens numbering as many as 150 be organized into subcommittees dealing with various phases of the plan such as traffic, business districts, schools, industrial development and recreation.

These committees would prepare written reports on their research and analysis which would be submitted to the planning commission and council for eventual submission to his firm.

Monthly reports would then be made by his consultants to the council until alternative solutions to the problems of the community are jointly worked out.

College Loans

NEW YORK (AP)—The commercial banks of New York State have 9,323 loans totaling $5,503,360 outstanding to college students under the cooperative program of the New York Higher Education Assistance Corp.

The New York State Bankers Association said the banks also have a sizable amount and a large number of other such loans made under their own plans.

Youths Steal Case Of Wine Off Truck

Teen-aged boys stole a case of wine off a liquor truck making deliveries at Dan's Liquor Store at Dolan's Corner in Mill Valley yesterday afternoon, sheriff's deputies reported today.

James Regalia, official of Trombetta Distributing Co. of San Rafael, called the sheriff at 5 p.m. yesterday to report the loss from one of the company trucks. He said the thieves jumped into a car and drove off with the wine.

Fund For Sausalito Cove Gets Support

Councilman Mrs. Marjorie E. Brady said today she has received more than 20 calls from Sausalitans interested in giving and collecting money "to save the Shelter Cove area as a beauty spot."

Sally Stanford last week offered $15,000 to start a fund for purchase of the underwater lots.

Mrs. Brady said she will continue to accept telephone calls from those interested in the project.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

A WEEK OF GOOD READING

PROFILE OF THE WEEK — Dr. Fred E. Sawyer is best known to Marinites as a San Rafael dentist and as a Marin County public official. But those are only two of the activities that he has packed into his eventful 89-plus years. Dr. Sawyer was born on a Vermont farm. But he's a Marinite through and through. He came to San Rafael following his graduation from dental college in 1895. And since then he has taken an active and important part in the county's growth. You'll read about his interesting past and present in tomorrow's Marin Magazine in an article written by Independent-Journal writer Florence Donnelly. And you'll also read his formula for a long and active life.

ONE OF A SERIES — Each week an Independent-Journal staff writer explores the character, achievements and human side of one of Marin's outstanding personalities — some of whom are all too little known by their neighbors.

"Where Customers Send Their Friends"

Judges Pick Top Science Exhibits

Two Dominican Convent eighth-grade girls and a Redwood High School sophomore are the winners of grand awards in the Marin County Schools Science Fair.

Judging was conducted yesterday at the auto shop of Tamalpais High School in Mill Valley where more than 200 exhibits will be on view to the public until 9 o'clock tonight.

Grand winners in the elementary division were Kitsy Dufficy and Alexa Shanley of the Dominican Convent for their project on "The Effect of Dyes on Certain Crystals." They also won first in the physical sciences for seventh and eighth graders.

Jon Katz of Redwood High School was grand winner in the high school division and won first in the ninth and 10th grade biological class with a display on "Effect of Ultrasonics on Seed Growth."

First, second and third place winners will compete in the Bay Area Schools Science Fair, April 2 through April 6 at the California Academy of Sciences.

Other winners in the seventh and eighth grade class:

Physical science: "How Do Crystals Grow?" Kathy Sieck, Debbie Hart, Linda Laybourne, Patsy Houghland, Reed School, second; "Does Radiation Pass Through Solids as Well as Liquids?" Guy W. Howard, Edna Maguire School, third; "Textile Fibers of Fabrics," Barbara Koons and Patty Lesko, Kent School, fourth. Merit awards went to Mark Heyer, Maguire; Mark De Smet, Maguire; Danny McNeill, Maguire; Michael Perlman, Richardson Bay; Joan Mitchell and Patty Ward, Sleepy Hollow; Robert Field, Reed; Christine Marshal, Reed; Robert Hodge, Isabel Cook; Jim Gregory Bays, Ross, and Dave Flowers and Tim Ingham, Ross.

"Taste," Ellen Roth, Kent, first; "Seed Plus Juice Equals?" Nancy Cox, Dominican Convent, second; "Does Diet Have An Effect on Learning," Jim Halm, Neil Cummins, third; "Release of Moisture in a Geranium," Susan Gabbs, Ross, fourth. Merits winners were Bob Tremelling, Maguire; Kim Hahn and Connie Atterburg, Reed.

Other winners in the ninth and 10th grade biological class were:

"Bacteria and Food Preservation," Bill Rubinask and Curt Johnson, Marin Catholic High School, second. There were no third or fourth-place winners or merit awards.

Winner of first place in the ninth and 10th grade physical science class was John Sauter, San Rafael High School, for "Color—a Study of the Spectrum." Second place went to Steve Martin, Redwood High School, for "Is Euclid Always Right?" There were no third or fourth places or merit awards.

Eleventh and 12th-grade winners in biological sciences were "Utilization of Sulphur by Yeast," Robert G. Little, Tamalpais High School, first; "Cancer Research With Chick Embryos," Mike Casselman, San Rafael High School, second; "A Cancer Study on Chickens," Allen Schaaf, Redwood High School, third. Merit awards went to Patricia McLean, San Rafael High; Don Dixon, San Rafael High, and Thomas Mellon, Marin Catholic.

Winner in the 11th and 12th-grade physical science classes were "A Study of Various Properties of Pascal's Triangle," Tom Farley, Redwood High, first; "Regular and Semi-Regular Polyhedrons," Nick Tideman, Redwood, second; "A Week's Dust in Marin County," Richard Marshall and Don Spencer, Marin Catholic, third. There were no fourth place or merit awards.

Carmine G. De Sapio, leader of New York's politically powerful Tammany Hall, was forced to give up the study of law because rheumatic fever impaired his eyesight.

Law Officers See Death Penalty Film

Marin County Peace Officers Assn. Wednesday night saw a film made by a Los Angeles television company as a documentary against capital punishment.

About 45 members of the peace officers group gathered at Mission Inn in San Rafael.

The film called for permission to telecast a real execution at San Quentin Prison. Dist. Atty. William O. Weisich, who discussed capital punishment after the film showing, said he thinks a telecast of an execution would be excellent, if at the same time, a telecast can be made of the convict committing the crime in all its cruel details and the sufferings inflicted on the family of the victim.

Novato Laundry Has New Owners

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adkins of 4 Nova lane, Novato, are the new owners of Christopher Laundromat, 1224 Grant avenue, Novato.

They purchased the business from Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Martin of 1254 Yukon way, Novato. The Martins plan to devote their time to other business interests.

Adkins was employed for the past six years in the engineering department of Schultz Building Co., Greenbrae. He was an unsuccessful candidate for Novato city council in January.

Consumer Aide's Refusal To Testify On Bill Irks Solon

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Mrs. Helen Nelson of Mill Valley, California's new consumer counsel, drew a legislator's ire yesterday for turning down his invitation to testify on a bill.

Assemblyman Milton Marks (R-San Francisco) said he asked Mrs. Nelson to give her views to an Assembly committee on his bill to permit deduction of cigarette taxes from income taxes.

Mrs. Nelson declined. She said she has an agreement with Gov. Edmund G. Brown that once he has announced a policy, she will not take action in opposition to it. Brown is against any cut in revenue.

Marks replied that Mrs. Nelson didn't have to appear in support of his bill, but that she has an obligation to give her views on this and other legislation affecting consumers.

Brown said later he expects Mrs. Nelson to appear before legislative committees, but only on matters having to do with the work of her office.

"It is true that consumers pay taxes . . . but Mrs. Nelson has neither the facilities nor the responsibility to determine how much money the government needs," said the governor. "Her duties are to help protect consumers in such areas as weighs and measures, labeling, installment payments and honest advertising."

ORDINANCE IS OBSOLETE; SO IS SUBJECT

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI) — They're going to let dogs ride on car running boards here, now that there are no running boards on cars.

City commission clerk Socar Mauch, who found the running board ban while leafing through local ordinances, lined up support from the chief of police and the mayor for a campaign to repeal the law as obsolete.

Note to the younger set: Running boards were platforms under pre-World War II cars' doors.

Ross Youth Heads Visiting Drill Unit

Christopher Hall, son of Mrs. E. Cargill Hall of 31 Allen avenue, Ross, visited his native Marin in style today when he flew in to Hamilton Air Force Base as captain of the Crack Squad of Shattuck School, Faribault, Minn.

Under Hall's command the squad will drill at San Rafael Military Academy tomorrow night during the intermission of a dinner dance.

The group of 15 will be around for six days, through next Wednesday, maintaining headquarters at Hamilton but appearing at the Cow Palace tonight, at San Francisco's Sheraton-Palace Hotel Sunday night, attending a Monday reception in Palo Alto as guests of Peninsula area parents, and being taped for television Tuesday.

Improvement Unit Eyes Disbanding

Members of the Muir Woods Park Improvement Assn. will discuss possible disbanding of their organization at a meeting at 8 o'clock tonight at their clubhouse.

Under this general heading two subjects will be brought up: whether the clubhouse is to be completed, and "whether a few people should be allowed to take action for a non-attending, non-voting membership."

Also on the agenda are reports on progress of a water ordinance, development of the Pt. Reyes area, and side road improvement funds.

Sausalito Players To Stage Musical

A new production of "Where's Charley?" Frank Loessor's musical version of the comedy, "Charley's Aunt," will open April 1 at 8:30 p.m. at the Gate Playhouse in Sausalito.

"Pipe Dream" is now playing at the Gate on Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m., featuring Don Staiton and Ralph McGlothin. Staiton and McClothlin will also have leading roles in "Where's Charley?"

Falling Pallet Injures Worker At Brickyard

He was treated at San Rafael General Hospital and released in good condition. He suffered contusions, and possible sprain, but no broken bones.

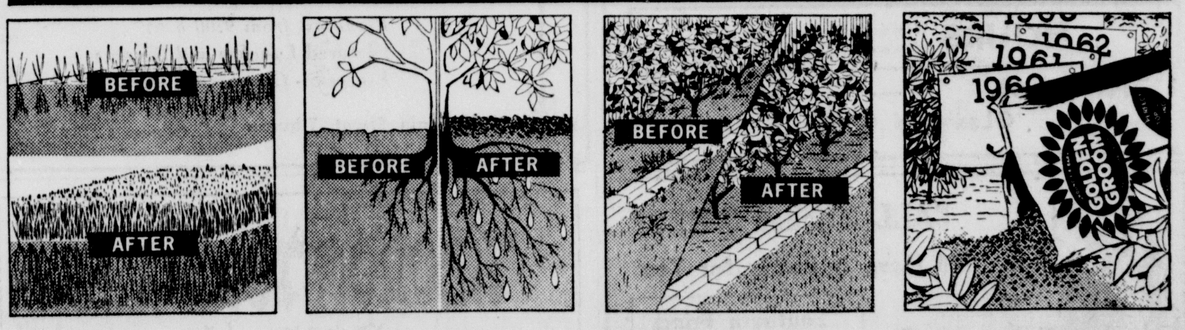
GOLDEN GROOM UNLOCKS A GROWING SECRET AS OLD AS NATURE ITSELF...

NOW... from the great Douglas Fir Forests of Northern California, an exciting new product for gardeners—Golden Groom. This fresh, scientifically ground fir bark comes ready for use... free of salt contamination, weed seeds, stones and other objectionable objects. And, Golden Groom is fortified with Nitrogen... nature's most important plant food.

Completely versatile, Golden Groom is a superior potting mix—a top dressing for old and new lawns, planting beds and flower gardens—and a planting medium for trees and shrubs. Golden Groom combats weeds too... and adds a refreshing forest scent to the garden.

LET GOLDEN GROOM DO NATURES WORK FOR YOU IN YOUR GARDEN



CONDITIONS SOIL

Golden Groom loosens up adobe and clay-like soils—gives added body to light or sandy soil. Adds valuable humus and improves water holding ability. The result—a perfect root zone for lush lawns... beautiful gardens.

CUTS WATER BILL

Used as a top-dressing mulch, Golden Groom retards surface evaporation and conserves soil moisture. This allows for longer intervals between watering. Your garden flourishes with less water ...less work!

COMBATS WEEDS

LONGER LASTING

Unlike peat moss, which is largely decomposed by the time it's used, Golden Groom is a fresh product. The cellular structure of the fir bark remains intact, doing its wonder work in your garden for as long as 5 to 7 years.

FORTIFIED WITH NITROGEN

YOU'LL FIND GOLDEN GROOM AT ALL LEADING NURSERIES AND GARDEN STORES

Rancho Nicasio Swim Club Season Starts Soon; Memberships Open

If you were a Rancho Nicasio Swim Club dunker last year you'll probably want to renew your membership for the 1960 season which starts May 1 for weekends, school vacation June 15 to Sept. 11 for daily use, then back to weekends until Oct. 30. Both family and single memberships are available.

Operation this year is in the hands of George Gazulis of Marinwood, who has a former physical education teacher and has been active in the San Francisco Recreation Department. With him is Gene Gordon, also a P.E. teacher and recreation instructor.

Look for several new facilities—a lawn is being planted, there'll be a sand area for the youngsters and playground equipment brought in, also family use of barbecue pits and picnic tables. I dunno—you might even run into lightweight Bobby Scanlon jumping rope or chinning himself or something.

If you want to put back some of the weight you lost paddling from one end of the pool to the other you can go inside the Rancho and lean on one of Louie Onofrio's veal scallopinis or chicken cacciatora for dinner.

UPTURN IN PANCAKE consumption this month, according to Gene Lackenbach of Eugene's restaurant proves two things. First, even if Marin does have some good seafood dineries, not everybody wants to eat fish all through Lent.

"What's the other?" I asked him.

"Why, that my pancakes are better, more tantalizing and healthy, the varieties are infinite, they're good at any time of day or night, and every one you eat tastes like more."

I KNEW IT.

There was bound to be some (good?) reason why Zack's new dining room in Sausalito hasn't been finished. I thought Sam Zakessian got side-tracked and made a barbershop out of it or something but he was insulted and wanted to know did I mean he was running a clip joint. Which he isn't and that's not what I said.

It's just that it's so full of lumber and stuff on account he's installing a new service bar which is supposed to open in about three weeks unless he decides to build a dock first—however, that may have to wait until he does something else to the patio—unless we have a storm, in which case all bets are off and he may use the delay to remodel the kitchen. Still, come to think of it, maybe what he should do first is surface the parking area.

Let's see—this is March. D'ya suppose by next January . . .? Naw? That would be rushing him too much.

Don't misunderstand me. He does serve food, and I understand he has a new combo trio called the Jazz Philosophers appearing Friday and Saturday nights and Sunday afternoons. Chuck Berlin at the piano, Jim Purcell playing vibes and Paul Breslin, bass.

TONIGHT THERE'S another in the series of monthly dances of the Marin Club for single people at Bob's of Marin.

If you're married folks it isn't your turn yet—wait until Saturday of next week, same place.

"SOME DISPLAY, eh?" I commented to Windy Ledson, sales chief for Lucas Valley Dairy, as we glommed a peek at last Tuesday's style show in Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

We'd just happened by y'understand, and the scenery was too attractive to break away from, appointments or no appointments.

"Your wife would probably like that little blue number," I added appreciatively.

"She probably would," he said. "I could go for it myself, though not for the same reason. If you ask me I'm in the wrong racket."

"It figures—but why especially?"

"Do you know any other business where the merchandise inside is used only to promote the wrappings? Can you imagine my drivers pouring out the milk and trying to charge for an empty carton?"

The weekend film fare:

TAMALPAIS THEATER

"Dog of Flanders" (CinemaScope, color), filmed in Holland and Belgium, is a "sleeper" which is fit viewing for the entire family. (It opens Sunday on the Hub screen).

The story deals with an old Belgian soldier (Donald Crisp) and his young grandson (David Ladd). They live happily on the Flanders plain and make a meager living by taking milk to the Antwerp market in a hand cart.

However the grandfather is lame and concerned because the day is not far off when David must carry on the business himself. So they nurse a dog which has been abandoned by a peddler, hoping he'll be a companion and guard for the boy.

Theodore Bikel, one of the best character actors about these days, also is in the cast, as an artist who encourages David.

This one iwll tug at your heart and I think the kids will love it.

RAFAEL THEATER

"The Bramble Bush," a new drama in the "Peyton Place" tradition, takes apart a New England community and, in the process, reveals hidden loves, lusts and kindred problems. (It opens Sunday in San Rafael.)

The participants include Tom Drake, Richard Burton, Barbara Rush, Angie Dickinson and Jack Carson.

Put them all together, and they spell murder—or mercy killing; depends on your point of view.

NOVATO THEATER

Newman plays his younger (and favorite) son, numbing himself with whiskey and rejecting his wife in the belief that she has been unfaithful. Miss Taylor is the wife, anxious to bear a child so that she may share in Big Daddy's estate.

Estimate: Adult stuff.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE AND FAIRFAX THEATER

These two theaters are showing one of Hollywood's better films this weekend—and one that has been overlooked. The details:

"Middle of the Night," a frequently moving film about a May and December romance, is based on a Broadway play by Paddy (Marty) Chayefsky.

It tells of a middle aged man (Frederic March), a widower of 56, who develops a youthful passion for his receptionist (Kim Novak), a 24-year-old whose marriage has failed.

He finds himself hanging around her neighborhood, waiting in hopes that she'll come by. And finally they have a date.

He knows the relationship is full of perils. Yet, in spite of counsel to the contrary, he pursues her.

The most striking thing about this fine film is March's brilliant performance. Even Miss Novak, no great shakes as an actress, doesn't look bad.

MOTOR MOVIES

"Little Abner" (VistaVision), color) is a musical. It has lots of singing and dancing and it is very funny.

Based on the musical comedy which ran on Broadway for quite a spell, it offers something for everybody, ranging from downright farce to witty political satire.

Most of the actors are from the stage cast, in itself an excellent idea, since the performances come naturally.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"North by Northwest" (color, wide screen), the Alfred Hitchcock espionage-comedy-drama, opens Sunday on the Mill Valley screen.

Cary Grant stars as the kidnap victim of a gang of spies whose mastermind, James Mason, thinks he's a U.S. agent on their trail. Trouble is, U.S. counter-espionage has created such a shadow to trick the agents.

Eva Marie Saint is Cary's heart interest . . . she's also a spy, and the mistress of Mr. Mason.

LARK THEATER

"The Lovers," a French import which has been creating quit a stir, has been held over again in Larkspur.

Jeanne Moreau portrays a lovely young matron whose affair is the cause of all the noise.

If you want to see how far the French will go in a film, this is it.

MARIN THEATER

How will the world end? In the opinion of Nevil Shute, who wrote "On the Beach," much as poet Eliot predicted: with a whimper.

The time is 1964. Most of the world has been wiped out in an atomic war. Deadly radiation is drifting toward Australia, where the people have about five months to live.

How each of them meets the end is the gist of this suspenseful, provocative tale whose highlight is a dramatic submarine voyage in search of life. The scenes of San Francisco are frightening in their reality.

Mariner Cove Unit Names Directors

Seven directors of the newly formed Mariner Cove Improvement Assn. were elected Wednesday night at a membership meeting in Neil Cummins School, Corte Madera.

Donald De Voto, Norman Barnett, Raymond Brandt and Robert Martin were elected to two-year terms and James Tonge Jr., Robert Reed and Mason Seudner to one-year terms.

Principal speaker was Arthur H. Brandow, Corte Madera town manager, who discussed "The Future of Corte Madera and Mariner Cove."

Dinner, Meeting Slated In Novato

A potluck dinner and meeting on race relations will be held at 7 p.m. tomorrow at Trevitt Hall of the Presbyterian Church in Novato.

Mrs. Eugene De Prado of Sausalito and Mrs. Thelma McKinley of Marin City will tell their experiences in helping make a quilt, a cooperative effort of persons living in Sausalito and Marin City. The quilt, designed by artist Frederick Douglas, will be on display.

The dinner will be sponsored by groups from Novato, Marin City and Santa Rosa, and will be attended by two weekend guests of Mrs. Phillip Dickinson, Mas Nagai and Shoji Shidehara, students from Japan at the University of California.

Mrs. Dickenson may be contacted on dishes that can be taken to the dinner.

Phone Firm Promotes Corte Madera Woman

Mrs. Merle G. Wolfe of 6 Hickory street, Corte Madera, has been appointed a staff assistant in the traffic department of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.'s San Rafael district office.

Mrs. Wolfe, who joined the company 17 years ago, will be in charge of arranging work schedules for telephone operators in San Rafael. She formerly was a staff clerk.

INCOME TAX FACTS

California, U.S. Rules Differ In Many Ways

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

California's income tax rules are different in many ways from the federal, and you should check every deduction and item of income before putting it on your California return.

Peter J. Wikel

Just because an item is deductible on the federal return does not mean that it is deductible on the California.

For instance:

Dividends are fully taxed on California returns and there is no 4 per cent credit.

There is no retirement income credit on California returns.

California does not tax any U.S. government bond interest.

There is no child care deduction on California returns.

Medical expense is deductible only to the extent that it exceeds 5 per cent of your adjusted gross income. Also, drugs and medicines all count on California returns, but you cannot deduct over $2,500 on a joint or head of household return or $1,250 on all others.

Charitable contributions are ductible from your California return up to 20 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

California does not tax the first $1,000 of military pay.

There are many, many other differences between the federal rules and the California rules, and it is important that you check every item.

Quentin Escapee Gets Longer Term

Robbie O, Craig, San Joaquin County burglar who escaped from San Quentin Prison last Jan. 7, has been ordered back for another one year to life in prison.

Craig pleaded guilty to escape yesterday before Judge N. Charles Brusatori in Marin Superior Court and was sentenced immediately, all within about five minutes. Deputy Dist. Atty. Harold F. Wolters was prosecutor.

After his escape in January, Craig stole a car in Larkspur and headed south. He was caught in Los Angeles.

Craig entered San Quentin in 1956 for a San Joaquin burglary, escaped from an honor camp in 1958, and was convicted of escape and robbery. He is already serving several life sentences. The new sentence will run consecutively with those he is now serving.

Marin Restaurant Given High Rating

Sabella's in Alto has been named one of the nation's "20 Topnotch Restaurants" by Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., bon-vivant author and traveler, in his newsletter, "Vagabonding With Vanderbilt."

Vanderbilt dined at Sabella's while visiting the Bay Area last January. He also included two San Francisco eateries on his list.

GROUNDBREAKING HELD AT FAIRCHILD SITE

Education Staff To Receive Pay Boost

Marin County Board of Education last night voted major salary increases to employees working through the county superintendent of schools office. It approved a total 1960-61 county school service fund budget of $302,110, an increase of $31,000 over the current year.

The salary raise included increase of base pay from $4,500 to $4,800 and a similar $300 boost in all classifications of the salary schedule. At the same time the board approved paying a full 100 per cent of base pay rather than the 94 per cent paid last year.

PERCENTAGE

The result is that the 27 persons involved receive salary increases averaging about 13½ per cent which, with regular annual increases, carried the total raises to 18½ per cent in some instances.

County Supt. Virgil Hollis, however, noted that even this large increase "is not commensurate with the increase in the workload." He noted that whereas the county staff formerly worked from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., it is now required to work from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Board member Robert G. Randolph urged the board to pay the "highest possible" salaries to get "top people." Hollis declared "I don't feel we can dilute the salary schedule" because counties paying lower salaries are "losing trained workers" to the higher paying areas.

HIGH SCALE

Randolph added that as adopted the salaries "compare favorably" with the largest counties "and perhaps even higher" than some of them.

Lyman B. McBride asked if there was any way that special merit raises could be given to specific individuals. He cited Robert Mathey, teacher-principal at the juvenile hall school, as one of the type he had in mind.

Hollis said he hoped that the board and his office could "work over the whole salary schedule" later in the year, at which time such readjustments might be made.

Besides salaries, the budget calls for added funds for audio-visual material and equipment and only minor changes in other classifications except publications. This was reduced from $14,911 to $3,500. Last year the board published the new county curriculum guides.

The superintendent also handed the board the budget for special education. The $233,601 total of these eight school programs for handicapped children is nearly double this year's budgeted figure of $123,965, although final expenditures this year are going to be in the neighborhood of $183,000.

Rudolph S. Kupfer, assistant superintendent, explained that the increased budget for this year has become necessary because of a "radical change" in the services offered. He pointed out, for example, that only one class had been planned for mentally retarded children, but that six are now in operation. He said this year's budget will have to be officially revised and submitted to the state.

The board took the special education budget under consideration for detailed discussion at the next meeting.

Cash, Checks Gone From Gas Station

A money bag containing about $185 in cash and $36 in checks disappeared from the Wilshire Service Station on Highway 101 at Lucas Valley road yesterday.

Walter M. Frye, 22, station manager, called the sheriff about 12:40 p.m. yesterday to report the loss. He said he took the money bag out of floor safe about 10 a.m. and believes he left it on the counter. He and another employee, Coy Lee Baker, 24, of the Nike station in Santa Venetia, then went on about their business. About noon, Frye noticed the bag was gone.

House To Be Set Afire In Fairfax

Fairfax firemen Sunday morning will set a house on fire—on purpose.

The house, at 218 Tamalpais road, will be destroyed because it is a danger to "the health and safety of the community," said Fire Chief Charles Thornton.

The old wooden structure also is a fire hazard, he said.

Permission to burn the house was given by owner Mrs. Cecelia Steinhagen of Maryland. Burning of the house also will provide the fire department an opportunity for a drill, Thornton said.

He said the house will be set afire at 9 a.m. and flames will be visible over a large area.

Kentfield Beauty Salon Ransacked

Vandals broke into the Penthouse Coiffeurs beauty salon in Kentfield sometime last night and ransacked the place, taking off with about $10 or $15 in cash from the cash box, sheriff's deputies reported this morning.

Kay Kirchamer, operator of the salon at 802 College avenue, said she came to work this morning and found the interior a shambles. Cabinets were emptied, desk drawers lay on the floor, and the cash box had been rifled. She said she does not know the exact loss until she takes inventory tonight.

County Education Board Passes Up Secret Meet

The Marin County Board of Education adjourned last night without going into secret session to discuss reappointment of personnel.

The "executive session" had been scheduled on the agenda. County Supt. Virgil Hollis asked board members last night if they wished to go into secret session to discuss with him his plans for releasing some of the members of his staff.

He told the board its action last night in granting major raises to his staff is "a mandate on the superintendent's office to select the very best type of personnel."

He said, "I believe I can achieve this," but that he would like to discuss individuals with the board in secret session. "I have had to wrestle with my conscience about some members of the staff," he declared.

Mrs. Adele Alpers urged the superintendent also to confer with the district superintendents: "They are the ones who must work with these people."

Another complication last night was the board's rule that all employees not notified in writing of dismissal by April 1 would be given another year's contract. Although May 15 is the legal date for such notification in other school systems, the county office has set the earlier dateline because it does not offer tenure. If the board did not discuss the dismissals last night, it would not meet again before the deadline.

Board president Alce Ann Rust pointed out that "the board is in a very peculiar legal position." She noted the board gave approval to newly employed personnel, but "has nothing to say about dismissals."

After a 15-minute discussion, the board voted 5 to 2 to adjourn without the secret session.

Terra Lindan Guilty Of Sex Charge

Arthur Atwood, 34, former bellhop living in Terra Linda, was found guilty last night in Marin Superior Court of two counts of sex perversion by a jury of seven men and five women which deliberated six hours.

The jurors found Atwood committed perverted acts with boys age 8 and 11 in 1957, and in 1959 at his Terra Linda home. Atwood faces a maximum penalty of three years to life in state prison.

Judge Thomas F. Keating, who presided over the four-day trial, ordered an examination to determine if Atwood is a sexual psychopath. The medical report is due April 25.

Assistant Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety called the boys to the stand to testify against Atwood, Navy veteran and father of three. Atwood worked as bellhop in a San Francisco hotel until his arrest last October.

The boys testified that Atwood held a knife in his hand and molested them, then told them not to tell anyone.

The parents of two other children, a 6-year-old girl and a 5-year-old boy, also complained to the district attorney that their children had been molested by Atwood. However, these children did not testify. He was not tried on charges involving these children.

Atwood denied all the boys' accusations. He is being held in Marin County Jail pending the medical report and sentencing.

Meeting Seeks Settlement Of HAFB Labor Dispute

Officials of Painters Union Local 83, Hamilton Air Force Base procurement officers and representatives of the federal labor mediation board were meeting today in an effort to reach a settlement in the five-day-old dispute between the union and the H. V. McNair Paint Co.

George Scott, president of the Marin County Building and Construction Trades Council, said they had met Wednesday from 11 a.m. until almost 5 p.m. with no results.

"I don't expect today's meeting to last that long," Scott said hopefully.

The union has charged that McNair, a contractor from Alaska who has four men repainting homes in the Capehart Housing Project, does not pay up to union scale and fails to pay overtime for Saturday and Sunday work.

McNair insists that the "fringe benefits" he does not pay his men are made up by the fact that he pays their room and board.

Scott, speaking for the union, said the local union contract calls for room and board to be paid for out-of-town painters and this is no excuse for McNair not to pay the extra benefits and the overtime scale.

Greenbrae Burglar Gets $1,500 Loot

About $1,500 worth of clothes and jewelry were stolen from the Greenbrae home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Saul, sheriff's inspectors reported today.

The break-in at the home at 420 Los Cerros drive was reported Wednesday, but the extent of loss was not determined until Mrs. Saul returned from a trip yesterday.

She told Deputy Sheriff Arthur Wiggins that about $650 worth of clothes, $780 worth of jewelry, a 35 millimeter slide projector and a pair of opera glasses are gone.

Naval Aviation Team To Visit Marin College

A three-man Naval aviation team will visit the College of Marin campus in Kentfield Thursday in a van equipped with displays and models of the latest Naval aircraft.

Students interested in the Navy's aviation cadet program will be interviewed and, if they wish, given the mental examination required for acceptance into the program.

Black Point Tavern Owners Face Hearing

A hearing on charges by the state Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control that the Black Point Inn made a sale to a minor will be held on April 13 at 2:30 p.m. in the council chambers of the San Rafael City Hall.

Giles L., Virginia E. and Paul L. Franklin are listed as owners of the tavern. The hearing will be before Ivores Dains, hearing officer for the state agency.

Drunken Driver Hit With Fine, Probation

Elmer Harold Sorenson, 43, of Los Altos must pay a $150 fine and remain on probation for six months for his first drunken driving offense.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court sentenced him for driving while intoxicated along Highway 101 Dec. 10 last year. While on probation Sorenson may drive only for work.

Unpublished Kern Songs Discovered

NEW YORK (AP) — The late songwriter Jerome Kern left a melodic legacy of 75 unpublished songs.

It was disclosed yesterday that the tunes—including ballads, waltzes, tangos and beguines—have been locked in the safe of Kern's publisher, Chappell and Co., since his death in 1945.

Broadway producer Cheryl Crawford said she was seeking permission to use some for a musical.

Foreign Affairs Talks

Luther Carr, San Mateo County attorney, and Marshall Windmiller, assistant professor of political relations at San Francisco State College, will present the Republican and Democratic viewpoints, respectively, on foreign affairs at a meeting sponsored by United World Federalists of Marin to be held at the Ross School at 8:15 p.m. on March 29.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

It's Not Always The Big Type That Attracts The Readers

Sometimes we wonder about ourselves. We print the paper in larger type, dress it up with headlines and subheads, put in pictures to break up the type mass, and spend valuable time working out page layouts to make the pages interesting and inviting to our readers.

Then do you know what one of the best read parts of the paper is? It's those last few pages of small type, crowded together about as tight as they can be. They're called classified ads.

We're particularly cognizant of the classified ads at just this time because we've just seen some of the figures for last year. During 1959 we printed a total of 228,679 separate ads. That's a record; more than 11,000 more than we published a year ago. It took 123 more pages to print them.

Biggest gains were in rentals and real estate, showing the active housing market we have here in Marin. But most of the ads, 60 per cent of them, were placed by individuals rather than by business firms.

That's something we find extremely heartening. We see our classified section performing a real public service. Take the case of the man whose wife became ill. He needed someone to help take care of the house and children until she got out of the hospital. He put in a classified ad and got 176 answers from people willing to help.

Then there's the lost and found columns, the miscellaneous for sale department, where people turn practically everything into cash, boat sales, gardening services, to name just a few.

We're proud of the 10 young ladies who handle the classified ads in our four offices—San Rafael, Mill Valley, Corte Madera, and Novato. In the first two months this year they processed 1,300 more ads than they did last year. If this keeps up in 1960 there will be a quarter of a million classified ads in the Independent-Journal. That's about 1½ for each man, woman and child in the county.

Actually, we probably don't have to tell you these things because you read all the ads anyway.

Just so we don't get an inferiority complex, please keep reading the big type too, will you?

Hitler And Patrick Henry

Just 25 years ago this month Adolph Hitler scrapped the Treaty of Versailles, and undertook the rearming of Germany. What he proclaimed as liberty for the German people ultimately brought only death—to millions of them and to millions of their fellow men from other countries.

Qiute a different "liberty or death" proclamation was made 185 years ago when Patrick Henry stirred the Virginia convention with his fervent answer to his own question: "Is life so dear, or peace so sweet, as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery?"

The lives that were given in World War II to silence Hitler's maniacal screams for power were lives given in the cause of liberty, not slavery, for all men. It is mankind's curse that the Hitlers of the world can rise to put the Patrick Henrys to the terrible, ultimate test.

YOU OWE $1700

If you ask anyone what the national public debt is, you will probably find that few people know what it takes or how much of it is their personal responsibility.

The national debt has been edging steadily upward and is not far from the $300 billion mark.

If each man, woman and child in the country assumed an equal share, he or she would be responsible for approximately $1700.

It is easy to be impersonal about obligations when nobody bothers us about them. But eventually they must be paid one way or another.

The precious blessing of freedom brings many rights. But each advantage carries a responsibility that every person is expected to share.

You can show your gratitude to God and country by generously coming to grips with that portion of patriotic, civic and economic obligations that is the personal responsibility of each person like yourself.

"In every nation he who fears Him and does what is right is acceptable to Him."
(Acts 10:35)

Let me show my appreciation for freedom's blessings, O Lord, by doing my part to protect them.

Things That Wouldn't Be Missed; You Probably Can Add To List

NEW YORK (AP) — Scientists foresee a future when the population explosion will skyrocket the earth's census from two and one-half billion people to maybe 10 or 12 billion.

So, if you think it's crowded on the bus going to work now, think how crowded it is going to be by the end of the century, or even the next decade.

In that sardine world a-coming, life will be more streamlined. There won't be space for a lot of the foolishness we find room for now. We'll have to start doing without the non essentials.

After-dinner speakers.

People who mail you small live turtles on your birthday.

All guitar players under 70 years of age. Those over 70 don't play rock 'n' roll tunes.

Wives who tell a husband, as he goes out the door in the morning, "Have a happy day at work!"

All millionaires who give interviews in which they claim their success is the result of lifelong thrift and hard work.

All landlords who have pets in their own homes but won't let their tenants keep them.

PRESS AGENTS who say, "I used to be a newspaperman myself."

Hominy grits, purposeless parsley, fruit in cocktails, paper panties on lamb chops, and that last glass of water the waiter brings when he's priming you for a big tip.

Video commercials which make the human insides look like a cross section of a boiler factory.

BACK-SEAT DRIVERS who always know a short cut.

All apostles of diets and other self-appointed authorities on how to give up the pleasures you can't do without.

What's on your do without list?

Will People Take Over Retribution?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your excellent editorial of March 8 reflects keen discernment on the part of its author. It is the best treatment of this subject I have read. I would like to submit: Capital punishment is a deterrent.

It is a deterrent, as you say, in the history of kidnaping crimes since the enactment of the Lindbergh Law.

Its advocates have a higher regard for human life than those who would abolish it; their interest being to instill this high regard into all our citizens.

Capital punishment should be kept as a penalty for forcible rape, traffic in dope, premeditated murder, treason. Concern for the victim and his family is part of the objective, I believe.

For obvious reasons we put the matter of retribution into the hands of the state. Isn't it conceivable that if the state falls down, some persons will take this job of retribution back into their own hands?

Protect Canal We Already Have

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The letter written by Rep. Clem Miller, published in your paper on March 8, accents points that have been problems along the San Rafael channel for years. Among other remarks he emphasized local government responsibilities for general maintenance.

In Marin County the county supervisors have recently negotiated a $300,000 loan with the state so that an undeveloped area north of Sausalito can have a deep access channel. This is good planning, as additional development will stimulate business and increase tax rolls.

However, it is my feeling that the cart is before the horse. In one instance the county is going to spend a large sum of money to dredge a new channel to presently undeveloped land. This channel will also have its problems of depth control. On the other hand there is a present channel in San Rafael that is rapidly becoming unuseable because of lack of maintenance dredging.

Here in San Rafael the channel has for years been a source of revenue for Marin County. Until the late tow boat strike, there was some 80,000 to 100,000 tons of annual commercial traffic, principally fuels for the various oil depots. There are several boat yards and repair shops depending upon the channel remaining useable. There are various boat sales outlets producing a huge gross business. There are also four or five boat harbors which furnish berthing facilities for several hundred boats.

All these businesses bring hundreds of thousands of dollars annually to the county in sales, personal property taxes and sales taxes. The many employees earn large payrolls which means more business for the local suppliers and stores. The boat owners spend large sums, both on their boats and in personal purchases.

All in all, it seems to me that it is just good business sense for the supervisors to first protect revenue that is now coming in by maintaining the water way that is doing the producing; then, whenever money is available, develop new and additional water ways that will increase income in the future, don't you agree?

Worlund Should Stick To Issues

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I read with interest and some amusement the recent letter from Elmer Worlund, chairman of the Republican County Central Committee, regarding a thermofaxed copy of a clipping he had received from Congressman Clement Miller saying "Miller Victory Forecast by GOP Coast Coalition."

If it were not apparent before, it is now quite clear that Mr. Worlund does not suffer from a sense of humor. It is difficult to believe that a little gentle ribbing from Mr. Miller should throw Mr. Worlund into such a panic.

This, however, is not really what concerns me. We all recognize that politics and government is serious business. So is an election campaign — must too serious to be treated in the fashion I see shaping up in Republican minds.

There are serious issues confronting the American people today, and they are worthy of serious consideration by the Republican candidates.

In the First Congerssional District, the people must face such problems as river and harbor development, depressed agricultural prices (with one poultry producer after another going out of business), fish and wildlife protection, protection and development of watersheds and water resources, recreation facilities and improved transportation for the expanding economy in the northern reaches of the District.

In addition, Napa, Sonoma and Marin counties face immediate and serious problems connected with a rapidly growing population. Not the least of these growth problems is the question of adequate educational facilities.

Instead of the usual platitudes about "peace and prosperity," threats about "a man to fear", and other name calling, it would be gratifying if the Republicans in the First District could see their way clear to facing up to some of these important problems. The day is done when elections can be won with threats, innuendos, suggestions of disloyalty and other tiresome tricks.

Congressman Miller, during his first years in Congress has worked diligently, positively and effectively on matters crucial to the citizens of this district, as those who have followed his actions in Congress will attest.

There are very real philosophical differences between the two parties. The Republicans would be wise and would be doing the voters a service if they would present a program reflecting Republican philosophy instead of spending their entire time "viewing with alarm."

BENNETT CERF

A night club comedian was laying the egg of all times. Only one person in the audience dug his humor at all, but this one certainly howled after each terrible joke. Then came one sally so atrocious that even the one admirer couldn't go for it. The crestfallen comedian walked over to his one rooter and grumbled, "What's the matter, jerk? Laugh it up, will you? You're ruining my act!"

A magazine editor who is constantly worried that he's getting too fat, received a fearful jolt the other afternoon. His new overcoat would not button in the middle. His secretary finally took pity on him and confessed that the two fresh female assistants had carefully moved all the buttons two inches to the right.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Thinking Public Wants Light Turned On Doings Of Teachers

It must be difficult to live in a gold fish bowl. It must be even more difficult to live in one that is filled with shadows.

Everyone on the public payroll, from senators to school teachers, lives in a gold fish bowl. The walls that separate their lives, both public and private, are transparent. And everyone can see in.

It's quite impossible to separate their public and private lives. What they do during the hours they are on the job is public business.

CUSTOM AND tradition make it difficult for them to live a really private life. The public makes it their business to "know" what these people do, at home, at the office, on the job, and off.

It is therefore quite ridiculous to hear the groans from the school administrators and trustees when the public demands to have the shadows swept away from the gold fish bowls.

There isn't a week that goes by that a school administrator, principal or school district trustee doesn't say, with just a bit of stuffiness at being questioned, that "some things should just remain private."

"When you get into the area of personality and personal things you can't make it public," a trustee will say.

CALIFORNIA'S anti-secrecy law allows public bodies to deliberate in private (providing such deliberations have been suitably announced) on the hiring, firing of an employee or on charges against an employee.

But many public bodies in Marin, and particularly those that govern school districts, fail to see that rather than a heavy dark and impenetrable curtain, the law is a veil beyond which "personnel matters" and "personality" cannot be hidden.

One school district superintendent recently was foolish enough to suggest to his board that an "executive" and secret session be held to consider a request for a pregnancy leave.

The woman in question was suitably married, had a fine reputation, and it was no secret that she was pregnant.

AN EXECUTIVE discussion of her taking a leave of absence would have been unlawful. Moreover, hiding the discussion of the leave "as something not suitable for public discussion" would have been roughly equivalent to saying "teachers don't smoke or drink or talk to people who do."

More to the point: Many of the private meetings held by such boards, if information that seeps out is correct, has to do with shaky reputations both academically and privately.

By the time any board gets around to hearing about these things in private, they already have been discussed by the rest of the faculty, a good portion of the student body, and many parents.

TEACHERS WHO have lost their effectiveness in the class room because of sloppy leadership of the administration, lack of interest, because they were no good in the first place, or because they carry their private lives or the effect of their private lives to school, should not be the subject of hush-hush meetings.

School trustees and administrators seal their lips, and at the very same time pay lip service to the idea that in secrecy the family's dirty laundry will dry at night.

There Is Possibility Of Agreement On Progressive Disarmament

WASHINGTON — The prevailing opinion in Washington is that an arms-reduction agreement with the Soviets is possible, but only after long and painful negotiation.

The prospects will not really be clear during the early stages of the 10-nation disarmament conference which opened in Geneva this week.

There are two reasons. First, the Communists are hard, skilled bargainers.

The other reason is the imminence of the big-four summit meeting in Paris May 16. There will be a tendency on both sides to let major decisions wait and see what the mood and directives on top are before getting down to solid talks.

ALL WE CAN expect from Geneva from here to mid-May is preliminary jockeying.

But U. S. officials are not approaching this conference as a hopeless exercise. They believe there is a basis of genuine self-interest on both sides for arms reduction and that it should be explored urgently and earnestly.

Here are the reasons progressive disarmament is almost equally compelling to the Soviets and to ourselves:

2 — The present spiralling arms race may explode, almost by internal combustion, into a horrible holocaust.

3 — If the principal powers cannot soon end the production of nuclear weapons there is no telling how quickly and how menacingly their manufacture will spread to other nations.

4 — The furious competition on both sides to get more weapons, more complex weapons, more destructive weapons is a terrible drain on the resources of the Soviets and ourselves. We would both like to be relieved of it.

5 — Premier Khrushchev has apparently concluded that war between the "capitalist" and Communist countries is not, despite the dogma of Marx, inevitable and that economic, political, and propaganda means are better for spreading Communism.

6 — Both sides are about equally strong. This is, therefore, a practical and timely period to negotiate.

IT ISN'T GOING to be easy. We don't trust the Soviets to carry out any progressive disarmament which cannot be continuously and effectively inspected. The Soviets are far less concerned with controls and inspection that we are. This doesn't mean that they trust us any more than we trust them. What it does mean is that:

Because the United States is an "open" society, its defense budget debated openly and appropriated visibly, the Soviets already have substantial military intelligence from us.

BECAUSE THE Soviet Union is a "closed" society, with a government-controlled press extensive travel restrictions, and no internal opposition party, we can achieve no verification of any disarmament violation unless the means are created by the treaty.

Therefore what we must find out by negotiation is, not just whether the Soviets want disarmament, but whether they want it enough to give up the one-sided intelligence advantage they already possess.

Belvedere Officials Reject Sewer Plan

An alternate plan for construction of Belvedere's own sewage treatment plan, instead of combining with Tiburon Sanitary District No. 5, did not receive support from city officials last night.

A special meeting of Dr. John H. Flint, Belvedere's sanitary adviser, City Mgr. Britton Rey and Dr. Raymond J. Millzner was held in the city offices last night. Millzner, who was Belvedere mayor when the city's current sewage treatment facilities were constructed in 1948, asked that the city review its plan, "to be sure the old plant had received consideration."

"My question has been answered," Millzner said at the end of the meeting.

Four of the five Belvedere city council members attended the meeting but, according to Rey, it was not a council meeting . . . "They are here as interested spectators." Councilmen attending were Mayor Dr. Robert P. Watkins, E. G. (Ned) Weed, Mrs. Ida Scott and Charles M. Yates.

COSTS TOLD

John T. Norgaard, engineer for the city-retained firm of Brown and Caldwell, reported that the city's cost for contracting with the Tiburon Sanitary District would be $302,000 for cost of lines plus $90,000 as the city's cost for its share of Tiburon plant expansion.

"This is approximately 34 per cent of the cost of their plant's expansion," Norgaard said. He pointed out that these figures did not include a federal grant of $48,000 for which the city was applying.

He said if Belvedere were to construct its own sewage treatment facilities the total cost would be $550,000 minus the $121,000 amount of a federal grant, or a total of $429,000.

BOND ISSUE

They discussed how big a bond issue could be put before the voters. "It is not the amount, it's putting it over that will be difficult," Weed said.

John T. Rumsey, engineer for the contractor who built the 1948 system, debated the cost of the lines with Norgaard, bringing from Norgaard a statement that differences in cost of operation and maintenance would save Belvedere residents $3,500 annually in connecting with Tiburon. He predicted a total saving of about $80,000.

Banks Asked For Condition Statements

WASHINGTON (AP) — The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for a statement of the condition of all national banks at the close of business Tuesday, March 15.

The Federal Reserve Board also called for condition statements from its members as of the same date.

Bill Allowing Malls Passed By Assembly

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Assembly today unanimously approved legislation to permit cities to convert streets in downtown areas to pedestrian malls.

The bill prescribes procedures for converting streets to malls.

A city council would have to call a hearing on the proposed ordinance before adoption. The ordinance would be referred to the voters if there were objections to the mall proposal.

"Our downtown areas are suffering from a disease," Geddes said. "This is one way to help cure it."

I-J Story Results In Return Of Lost Car

George Tiaffray of 50 Austin avenue, San Anselmo, was glad to testify today that the Independent-Journal gets results even beyond Marin County boundaries.

His valued but beat-up-looking antique car recently taken from right beside California Highway Patrol headquarters on Francisco boulevard was returned and parked right up against the patrol building because of I-J publicity, for which the patrol itself was accorded due credit.

On March 8, Patrolman Paul Zensius cooperated with Tiaffay to give the I-J a news story revealing facts which on the face were a little embarrassing to Zensius personally although as Tiaffay made clear, no blame attached to Zensius or anybody. It was just one of those things.

What had happened was that Tiaffay's rare 1936 Ford open tourer, in process of restoration but with no outward improvement in evidence, had disappeared from an open lot next to the patrol office.

Zensius had noted the car, piled high with fenders, headlights and other oddments but lacking an engine, and had mentally written it off as "a junk heap" after search had failed to disclose either owner or value. But Tiaffay had just spent $300 with a body shop which had changed hands and for a time he was just waiting while he found other restoration experts.

There was a misunderstanding about use of the lot and the lot owner wasn't aware of the car's ownership. Pretty quick along came an antique car fan who inquired around and finally hauled the car away. Nobody knew who he was. But Zensius had a hunch he was an honest man who might be moved by publicity about the facts.

A Marin reader of the I-J sent it to a friend in Cotati, one Ted Millerick.

"Holy smoke—that's the car I hauled away because the lot owner said nobody owned it!" exclaimed Millerick. "I'll take it back."

Which he now has done. Tiaffay is grateful to everybody concerned and determined that this time he'll really get that car restored to a point where no further misapprehension can be felt.

Meanwhile on the side of the recovered but still unrestored vehicle are painted the words: "Before—watch it grow!!"

Angel Isle Boat Trips Scheduled As Usual

Sausalito boat skipper Russell G. Lewis said today he will schedule trips from Sausalito to Angel Island tomorrow and Sunday at 10 a.m., returning at 3 p.m.

"Because of the Sausalito boatyard fire I have received many phone calls inquiring whether my boat was damaged," Lewis said. He reported no damage, and normal scheduling of trips.

Today is Friday, March 18th, the 78th day of the year, with 288 more to follow in 1960.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1804, Napoleon proclaimed himself Emperor of France.

In 1837, Grover Cleveland, 22nd and 24th President of the United States, was born.

In 1844, Russian composer Nicholas Rimsky-Korsakov was born.

In 1852, Massachusetts approved the first compulsory school attendance law.

In 1860, Lincoln won the Republican nomination for President.

A thought for today: Grover Cleveland said: "Public officers are the servants and agents of the people, to execute the laws which the people have made."

It's Big O Vs. Cal's 'Big D' In Cage Classic Tonight

Bears Favored In NCAA; Game To Be Televised

High-powered Cincinnati with its Big O — offense and Oscar Robertson — battles California and Big D — defense and Darrall Imhoff — tonight in the NCAA basketball semifinals matching the nation's top-rated clubs.

In the other semi-final at the Cow Palace, the dark horse New York University Violets match shots with the No. 3 ranked club, Ohio State's Buckeyes, champions of the Big Ten.

Cincinnati's chances ride with three-time All-America Robertson who gets his final chance to bring the national crown to the Bearcats. Last year in the semi-finals, California's defense stopped him as the Bears won an upset 64-58.

Both clubs posted 27-1 records en route to the championships with Cincinnati noted for a blistering offense and California for a tenacious defense. The Associated Press roll ranked the Bearcats No. 1 this season and California No. 2 with Robertson and Imhoff winning spots on the All-America five.

Tonight's NCAA semi-final basketball game between Cincinnati and California will be televised in northern California over KTVU, Channel 2, at 9:30 p.m.

The Buckeyes posted a 23-3 record and NYU 22-3, the latter by winning its last 11 games.

NYU Coach Lou Rossini's star has been 6-7 center Tom Sanders. His starting five includes Al Filardi and Al Barden as corner men and Ray Paprocky and Russ Cunningham in the back court. The average height of the Violets, 6 feet 2½ inches with Cunningham at 5-8, the smallest of the tournament teams.

Ohio State paced the nation in scoring with an average of 91.6 points per game. Starting with the 6-8 Lucas are two other sophomores, John Havlicak and Mel Nowell, junior Larry Siegfried and senior Joe Roberts. The Buckeyes average 6-5 for the starting five, the same as Cincinnati. California averages 6-4½.

"I don't recall a tournament where the four finalists have lost a total of only eight games," commented Coach Pete Newell of California, who said balance is his club's greatest asset.

"We've met challenges like this before this year," he commented. "Our fellows have shown they aren't going to lose the game in the dressing room."

Only two starters returned from last year's NCAA champions—Imhoff and 6-5 forward Bill McClintock. But Tandy Gillis, Earl Shultz and Bobby Wendell filled in beyond expectations. Wendell at 5-9 is the club's "quarterback" who sets up the plays.

California's local popularity and the sellout brought a change in NCAA policy to allow local telecasting. There will be no national telecast but some local areas in the vicinities of the competing schools will carry the programs.

Coach George Smith of Cincinnati was asked if he felt his club could beat California and answered promptly, "That's what we're here for."

BIG O'S MATES

With Robertson on the starting five are seniors Larry Willey and Ralph Davis, junior Carl Bouldin and 6-9 sophomore Paul Hogue.

Hogue provides height that was missing last year. The only question appears to be whether he can control his tendency to commit fouls.

"We're largely an inside shooting club and we're better than we were last year," Smith added.

"We came to the west coast to beat California," said Smith. "That's our job. I hope we can do it."

Newell wouldn't go that far. "We don't under-rate Cincinnati," said Newell. "We'll have to play our normal game, or a bit above it, to beat them."

Neither of the other coaches was too optimistic.

"We certainly feel we have a chance against Ohio State," said Rossini. "But we'll have to go on all cylinders. Any time any of our first team fouls out, our chances for victory become dim because we lack speed on the second team."

Said Fred Taylor, coach at Ohio State: "I can't venture a guess on how we'll fare against N.Y.U. This is all new and strange to us. We have mostly sophomores. But we take nothing for granted. And I know our team can stand the pressure."

Newell, the nation's "Coach of the Year," admitted that this is a stronger Cincinnati team than the one Cal beat in the semi-finals last year.

"I know they must be improved, because their over-all record indicates it," said Pete. "They have better balance. But when they tell me that Oscar Robertson has improved, I can't believe it. He was so wonderful last year — how could he improve?"

Newell is undecided on who will guard Robertson.

"It depends on where he plays—at the post, or at forward," said Newell.

On the other hand, Coach Smith said he'd probably use his biggest man, Paul Hogue, to guard Cal's All-America star, Darrall Imhoff. Both are six feet, nine inches tall.

PREPPING FOR THE BIG ONE— University of California's basketball team gets in some practice at San Francisco's Cow Palace where they will clash with Cincinnati Bearcats in the semi-finals of the NCAA championship tournament tonight. Joy In Giantsville; Key Men Delivering In The Clutch

PHOENIX (AP)—Key hitters in the San Francisco Giants batting order are looking sharp.

The boys who have to come through are the fellows in the 3-4-5-6 slots and they did it in style yesterday to hand the Giants a 4-3 come-from-behind victory over the Boston Red Sox at Scottsdale.

It was the first Cactus League loss for the Red Sox. The Giants meet the Cubs today at Mesa.

Then came the No. 3 batter, Willie Mays, who walked and stole second. The cleanup man Willie McCovey popper out and Boston pitcher Erv Palica got two strikes on No. 5 man Orlando Cepeda, it looked as though the San Franciscans had had it. But Cepeda came through with a line drive double to left to tie the game and Willie Kirkland followed with a game-winning single up the middle.

He went to the mound in the bottom of the ninth after Red Worthington walked three Bostonians with one out.

Byerly sneaked a third strike past rookie Lee Howell and whiffed veteran Viv Wertz. He then got the Red Sox out in order in the ninth.

The tight victory was especially gratifying to Manager Bill Rigney who remembered his Giants losing 22 of 42 one-run decisions last season.

Mrs. Prodger Wins Marin Golf Event

Class B—Mrs. Nate Blumenfeld, 108-30—78; Mrs. Mel Bleadon, 113-32—81; Mrs. E. H. Fohrman, 115-32—83.

Marin Sportsmen Map Fight To Save Striped Bass Area

A proposal to eliminate a large portion of the noted striped bass fishery off Hamilton Air Force Base will bring strong opposition from the powerful Marin Rod and Gun Club, it was announced today.

Peter Bertoni of San Rafael, president of the club, said his organization will make " . . . a vigorous protest" to the Corps of Engineers during the 30 days in which the proposal will be pending.

Bertoni said the 78th Fighter Wing at Hamilton Field had made an application to have the famed fishing area declared a danger zone.

The move, he said, was announced as a safety measure because of a firing range facing out into the bay. It was reported present abutments were deemed insufficient protection from ricochets.

The fishing area which would be closed should the application be approved is an oval area, apexing at the firing range and extending two and a half miles out into the bay. At least two miles of the clam beds, striped bass and sturgeon fishing grounds would be eliminated.

Bertoni said the MRGC board of directors will schedule an emergency meeting to map battle plans to be presented to the Corps of Engineers. This matter will come before tonight's regular meeting, Point San Quentin at 8 p.m.

The Marin club boasts 2,300 members and claims to be the largest club of its kind in California. Other sportsmen's organizations in the Bay Area are expected to join the Marin group in its fight to save the fishing area which is said to be one of the most productive striped bass fisheries in the Bay and Delta area.

Boat Launching At Wheeler's

Wheeler's is located at 345 Francisco boulevard, San Rafael.

The firm's president-manager, Dave Wheeler described his facility as "one of the finest in northern California. We can launch anything on a trailer and small crafts at any tide." The Wheeler ramp is two lanes extending 85 feet into the harbor.

Wheeler said a $1.50 in and out fee is charged per boat.

Shure And It Was A Fine Day For Shillelagh-Swinger Willie McCovey

HANLEY

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. — Willie McCovey celebrated St. Patrick's Day yesterday with a sprig of shamrocks in his lapel. Willie hails from Mobile, Ala., not southern Ireland, but he looked right smart in the customary wearing of the green.

McCovey said he may even wear one of the shamrocks at bat in this afternoon's game against the Cubs "for luck." The power of shamrocks, according to believing Irishmen, is great indeed. But it's doubtful McCovey needs any of their magical powers the way he has been slugging the ball.

There have been many predictions that McCovey will become one of the great hitters, that his phenomenal rookie year with the Giants last season was not just a flash in the pan.

SOME SAY that McCovey has patterned his swing after Ted Williams. McCovey says he just swings natural and hasn't tried to copy anybody. It will be interesting to hear Williams' comments on McCovey's swing and his opinion whether McCovey might become a great one.

The three-game appearances Williams already has made this spring is an Arizona record for him. He did not appear in any exhibitions last year except one in San Diego when he developed the crick in the neck that still gives him twinges when he least expects them.

If Williams had appeared in the first meeting between the Giants and Red Sox at Phoenix Tuesday, a crowd double the 3,392 that did see that game undoubtedly would have turned out to fill the Phoenix Municipal Stadium.

Unlike last year, however, it was announced a full day in advance of the game that Williams would not make the short trip between Scottsdale and Phoenix. Last year there were no pre-game announcements when he would and wouldn't play.

As a result the sports departments of the Phoenix Gazette and Arizona Republic were deluged with protests which pointed out that many Little Leaguers attended Red Sox games in hopes of seeing Williams play.

One Little Leaguer wrote:

"I guess Ted Williams doesn't play on weekends. I go to school week days. Guess I'll never see him play."

He and other Little Leaguers will see Williams this year, or at least know in advance when he is not going to make an appearance.

Williams, now 42 and reaching that twilight zone of his career, apparently has established a new exhibition game policy for himself, i.e., play in as many games as possible.

Yankees Fret As Mantle's Knee Is Acting Up Again

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Although they won't admit it, the New York Yankees are becoming increasingly concerned over Mickey Mantle's chronic knee trouble.

The slugging outfielder pulled up with a badly inflamed right knee at the Yankees' St. Petersburg, Fla., training camp yesterday and was taken to a hospital for X-rays.

"There are no bone chips but the knee is inflamed and there is some fluid in there," said Dr. Sidney Gaynor, the team physician, who advised Mantle to "take it easy" for a few days.

Mantle has had trouble with the same knee since the 1951 World Series when he ripped the inner cartilage so severely he had to undergo an operation. Additional leg trouble and shoulder miseries handicapped him last year, when he had his most disappointing season with the Yankees, hitting only .285.

While Mickey's current plight wasn't judged too serious, there is always the possibility the knee may hobble him more this year than in the past—and that's what has the Yankees worried.

Manager Casey Stengel fully realizes that in order for the Yankees to bounce back from their surprising third-place finish last year they will need a healthy Mantle in their lineup every day.

Thus far this spring, the former champs have looked woefully weak at the plate—scoring only seven runs in losing three of their first five exhibition games. They collected only two hits in a 3-0 loss to the Chicago White Sox Tuesday and were limited to three safeties in a 1-0 victory over the Washington Senators Wednesday.

The Yankees, along with seven other clubs based in Florida, enjoyed a break in their training grind yesterday when a heavy rain washed out four exhibition games.

However, in sunshiny Arizona the Cleveland Indians downed the Chicago Cubs, 4-3, on Rocky Colavito's fourth home run of the spring and the San Francisco Giants scored an uphill 4-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

The Kansas City Athletics turned back the Baltimore Orioles, 3-2, in 10 innings at Miami and the White Sox edged the Senators, 1-0 at Sarasota as rookie pitchers Ed Hobaugh, Gary Peters and Stover McIlwain combined in turning in a one-hitter.

Colavito's homer came in the sixth inning with a mate aboard and wiped out a 3-2 Cub lead. Dick Stigman, the Indians' rookie southpaw, struck out the side in the sixth to highlight a three-inning scoreless stint.

K. O. Lausse Favored In Video Bout

That punch, plus a current victory streak of 14, has made the South American middleweight champion a 9-5 favorite to beat rugged Wilfie Greaves, the Canadian ruler, in their 10-round television (NBC 7 p.m., PST) fight at Madison Square Garden tonight.

After watching a movie of Lausse's win over Gene Fullmer in 1955, Wilfie commented:

"He's easy to hit."

Lausse, who has seen films of some of Greaves fights, had almost the same comment about Wilfie.

"Wide open," said Lausse. "He comes to you, which is good for me."

The swarthy, dark-haired South American has scored 64 knockouts in posting a 78-9-3 record. Greaves has stopped 17 foes. His record is 31-12-1.

Coastal Deer Season Cut To Six Weeks

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Fish and Game Department today recommended 1960 hunting rules almost identical to last year's.

Seasons are essentially the same adjusted only to provide Saturday openers, except the coastal deer season would be cut back from seven to six weeks.

The only significant change in bag limits would permit taking 10 quail instead of 8. Pheasant hunters would be permitted to take a female if the spring nesting season is a good one. Otherwise it would be 10 males.

The Fish and Game Commission will hold a hearing on the proposal April 8. Final rules will be set at a hearing in Los Angeles May 27.

Deer—Coastal season Aug. 6-Sept. 18; inland season Sept. 24-Oct. 30; coastal archery July 23-Aug. 1; inland archery Sept. 10-19. Coastal bag limit 2 bucks; other areas one.

Bear—Coastal Aug. 6-Jan. 2; inland Sept. 24-Jan. 2; archery season same as for deer; bag limit two except in Humboldt County, which has no closed season or limit.

Pheasants—Nov. 12-17 except for Imperial and most of Riverside County, which runs to Dec. 11; bag limit 10.

Quail—Northern opens Oct. 29, southern Nov. 12, both run to Jan. 2 except northeast portions which close Dec. 15. Bag limit 10.

Chukar partridge—Northern season Oct. 29-Jan. 2 except Oct. 29-Dec. 15 in Lassen and Plumas counties; southern Nov. 12-Jan. 2. Limit four a day.

Scanlon To Drill In Nicasio Hall

Lightweight Irish Bobby Scanlon, tuning up for his April 5 bout with Johnny Gonsalves in Oakland, will spar several rounds Saturday and Sunday in Nicasio, Co-Manager Nick Kobseff said today.

Lakers Stun St. Louis, Now Hold Edge In NBA Playoff

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The hungry Minneapolis Lakers, smelling a playoff upset over the St. Louis Hawks for the second straight year, suddenly find themselves owning the so-called home court edge after stunning the Hawks 120-113 in St. Louis to even the series.

Jim Pollard, Laker coach, said, "Now we have three more at home. A road victory was what we had to have and now we have it."

The Boston Celtics, seeking to make it two straight over Philadelphia, meet the Warriors tonight in Boston in the second game of their best-four-of-seven Eastern final in the National Basketball Assn.

Minneapolise faces St. Louis Saturday and Sunday in a pair of afternoon games. The sixth game will be in St. Louis next Tuesday.

St. Louis, which won the first game easily 112-99, ran up a quick 10-0 lead last night and seemed on its way to another easy one.

But the Lakers, led by Elgin Baylor's 40 points, rallied repeatedly. They finally moved ahead with 7:47 left in the game. Once ahead, they were unbeatable.

Drugging Incident Mars NIT; Bradley-Providence In Final

NEW YORK (AP) — Bradley's top-seeded Braves and upstart Providence meet tomorrow afternoon for the championship of a National Invitation Basketball tournament marred by fears of a drugging incident.

An analysis of a sample of the juice was to be made today by police, who were called into the case after Walker and roommate Al Saunders reported the incident to Coach Chuck Orsborn. A detective said he was inclined to think the incident was a harmless prank. Orsborn said Walker sometimes has a nervous stomach before a game, "but nothing before like this."

Although quite ill and weak, Walker played 23 minutes and scored 27 points for Bradley, including five in a row that put away the victory in the closing minutes. Then, "feeling weak and tired," he was put to bed at the hotel.

"For a boy as sick as he was, I thought Walker played a wonderful game," said Orsborn. "Mike Owens played well too and did a wonderful job of puncturing St. Bonaventure's half-court press."

Owens, a stubby senior backcourt star, scored only six points but his floor generalship was superb. The Bonnies, who had won 18 in a row, challenged all the way as Tom Stith scored 34 points and Sam Stith 20, but Bradley always had the answer when the score got close.

Providence Coach Joe Mullaney said last night "If we hope to win we're going to have to lift our entire game. We made too many mistakes against Utah State. We won because we got the breaks toward the end."

Len Wilkens, Johnny Egan and 6-10 Jim Hadnot did the big job for the Friars, who ran their winning streak to 11. Wilkens had 18 points, Egan 16 and Hadnot 10.

"We gave the ball away too many times," said Utah State Coach Cec Baker, "to beat an opportunistic team like Providence. It'll be a fine final—a close one I think if Providence can hit from the outside against Bradley the way it did against us."

Santa Venetia Drag Racer Set For Races

Stoke will join other drag racers throughout the west, including drivers of a dozen 170 mile-per-hour machines, to challenge the owner of a supercharged Chrysler dragster, which holds the world's top speed record for a quarter mile at 185.66 mph.

Owned by Don Garlits and driven by Art Malone, both of Tampa, Fla., the record-breaking car will make numerous runs to highlight the two-day meet. Malone turned in the 185 mph speed record at Bakersfield March 5 before 30,000 spectators.

Dragsters from the Northwest and the southland will come to the lower East Bay city in an attempt to uncrown Garlits and Malone.

Chisox Pilot Thinks Club's Added Strength Should Assure A.L. Flag

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) —Al Lopez thinks his Chicago White Sox should again win the American League pennant with the added power of Minnie Minoso and Gene Freese and a full season from Ted Kluszewski.

The White Sox manager believes he has added some boom-boom to the go-go of last season when his club won its first pennant in 40 years by five games, with only 97 home runs and a team batting average of .250.

"A year ago at this time we didn't have Minnie, Freese or Klu," said Lopez. "I think we improved ourselves with a couple of deals without disturbing our basic players."

"No, both Minnie and Freese fit into our style," he said. "Both can run. Most of all, they give us more power.

"They say we are an old club and point to all the men 35 or better. We do have some older players but we have age where it won't hurt — at first base, catching and in left field. We're young at short, second and third and in center field and right."

Kluszewski could make a tremendous difference if he stays healthy. The muscle man, now 35, came to the Sox Aug. 25 and hit .297 the rest of the way, not counting his three homers and .391 average in the World Series. Klu insists he can play at least 125 games. Earl Torgeson (.220) can play the rest.

Freese hit 23 homers for Philadelphia while batting .268. He will play third base. In case of emergency, Lopez can fall back on Billy Goodman (.250) or Sam Asposito (.167). He also is taking a long look at Chico Carrasquel (.223) at Baltimore.

The second-short combination of Nellie Fox (.306), the League's most valuable player, and Luis Aparicio (.257 with 56 stolen bases) is the best in the league by far.

Jim Landis (.272) is a superb center fielder. Minoso (.302 at Cleveland with 21 homers and 92 RBI) and Al Smith (.237) flank Landis. Jim Rivera (.220) and probably rookie Joe Hicks (.314 at Indianapolis) are the reserves although Jim McAnany (.276) will have something to say when he returns from the service. Harry Simpson also is available.

Early Wynn (22-10) is the big pitcher but he is 40. Bob Shaw (18-6) was the lifesaver last year. If Dick Donovan (9-10) and Billy Pierce (14-15) can bounce back, there will be no problems. Barry Latman (8-5) and two new lefthanders, Frank Baumann (6-4 at Boston) and Don Ferrarese (5-3 at Cleveland) are the other starting possibilities.

Banks. Twice League's Top Player, Tries To Improve

MESA, Ariz. (UPI) — Ernie Banks, slugging shortstop of the Chicago Cubs, is determined to "show a big improvement this year" despite the fact he has won the National League's most valuable player award a record two straight seasons.

"I'd like to boost my batting average a little," Banks declared. "It seems to me I was hitting under the ball a lot last season. Yes, and I'd like to move the runners around the bases a little more."

EXTRA PRACTICE

Banks actually is taking extra batting practice although his lightning wrists helped him smash 45 homers last year while he was driving in 143 runs. Banks now has hit 43 or more home runs during the past three seasons and last year's RBI production was the highest in the league since 1937 when Joe Medwick drove in 154 for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Banks nailed down the most valuable player award for the second straight time in 1959 but now frets over his .304 batting average.

"You learn something new about baseball each season," the 29-year-old player said.

EYES SANFORD

Banks, whose "clutch" average was .338 according to Cub figures, is planning to make pitcher Jack Sanford of the San Francisco Giants throw the ball a little more outside.

"I go after a lot of his high and tight stuff but this year I'm going to wait until that ball is further away," Banks said. But he joins other batters in expressing admiration for Sam Jones' curve ball.

A silent rookie when the Cubs bought him from the Kansas City Monarch seven years ago, Banks has become a master of the easy charm and gracious answer. Yet he doesn't have the "got it made" approach.

Roger Maris Stars

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Roger Maris, the outfielder obtained in a trade with Kansas City, is one of the bright spots in an otherwise drab New York Yankee training camp. He has hit safely in all five exhibition games the Yankees have played for a heavy .367 average.

JET ROAR REDUCER

Alameda Naval Air Station has devised this turbo-jet noise suppressor as an answer to complaints from neighboring residents about the roar of jet engines during ground tests. Use of the suppressor is expected to reduce noise to a level acceptable to the complainants. (AP Wirephoto)

Six Teachers Called In Red Probe Fired

SACRAMENTO (AP)—At least six teachers subpoenaed by the House Un-American Activities Committee have been fired or forced to resign by their local school boards, the state Department of Education said today.

The group is part of 93 public and private teachers subpoenaed last year for an investigation of Communist activities in California's schools.

CANCELS HEARINGS

Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) canceled the hearings and turned his files over to state and local agencies for action.

Laurence D. Kearney, administrative adviser for the Department of Education, said his office is working with local boards to investigate the list for public teachers who are Communists, have Communist affiliations or lied about their political past.

One case already has come before a state hearing officer, two more will open next week and two more are pending. Kearney said undoubtedly many more would be scheduled in the future.

ANGRY DEBATE

The question of teacher loyalty already has stirred angry civil right debate which Kearney said probably will expand as the investigations broaden. California prohibits Communists from holding teachers' jobs or state certificates.

Most common complaints are that the teachers are being denied their constitutional rights of due process, free speech and free association.

One of the strongest objection has been to the Dilworth Act, which allows local board to call in teachers for questioning about Communist affiliation. If they refuse to answer they can be fired and the state then can revoke their credentials.

BYRON G. FRAMSTAD
Named to new bank job

Marin Man Promoted By Bank

Byron G. Framsted, former assistant manager of Bank of America's San Rafael branch, has assumed a new position as manager of the bank's Fruitvale branch in Oakland, president S. Clark Beise announced today.

Framsted has been assistant manager of the San Rafael office for five years. He joined the Bank of America at Turlock in 1938 and also served in branches at Kelseyville, Lakeport and Ukiah before entering the Army in 1941. Returning to the bank in 1946, he was assigned to Kelseyville as an officer. In 1952 he was named manager of the Lower Lake branch, a position he held until coming to San Rafael in 1955.

Enlists In Navy

Martin T. Olson, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Olson of 721 Alice street, Novato, has enlisted in the Navy at the Marin County Navy Recruiting office, 1116 Fourth street, San Rafael, for a four-year tour of duty. He will be sent to the Naval Training Center in San Diego for nine weeks of recruit training.

Pope Pius told Broadway stage comedians Olsen and Johnson that "Laughter has no religion. There should be more of it in the world."

Big Population Hike Seen In 60-Year Span

Marin County will have more than five times its present population in another 60 years, according to the latest crystal ball gaze.

Producer of the new guesstimate is the San Francisco Bay Area Council, which puts Marin probable growth ahead of much of the rest of the area. As a whole, forecasts the council, will quadruple by the year 2020.

The council said it drew on an unpublished Department of Commerce report on economy of the Bay Area, prepared for the Army Corps of Engineers.

Marin is given a present 150,700 population by these figures, with 789,900 expected in 60 years, and more than double in 30 years. The estimate by decades runs:

As with several other recent estimates, the fastest growth rates are expected in all the northern Bay Area counties.

BIG BOULDERS NEEDN'T BE REGISTERED

BERKELEY (AP) — Here's good news for California property owners: You don't have to register boulders that weigh a ton or more.

The state Department of Public Health has decided to exempt huge granite rocks from a new law requiring registration of every source of radiation above permissible levels.

Also exempted were furniture manufacturers who use radioactive magnesium thorium alloys.

Contractor Has Till May 3 For Move

The Larkspur Planning Commission Tuesday night gave contractor P. H. Vincilione 49 days—not 21—to move all of his unused or inoperable heavy equipment from an open lot on Magnolia avenue.

The Independent-Journal reported incorrectly Wednesday that he was given a deadline of April 5. Actual deadline is May 3, date of the commission's first regular meeting of that month.

Easter Seals Mailed To Marin Homes

With the luck of the Irish with them, 40,000 sheets of 1960 Easter Seals went into the mails yesterday to Marinites carrying a "Please Help Us" plea for crippled children.

Roger P. Garety, chief deputy district attorney and general chairman of the Easter Seal campaign, has announced that a $20,000 goal has been set for the drive, which is the main financial support for the many projects and services of the Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Thousands of teen-agers and adults have worked this year readying the envelopes and stuffing them with Easter Seals, preparatory to mailing, Garety said. All of the county's high school typing classes aided with addressing. Members of the society and many sororities and other organizations met at stuffing "bees" weekly at the home of the mailing chairman, Mrs. John Fitzhenry in San Anselmo, to insert seals in envelopes.

Funds For Privately Printed Texts Refused

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly Committee on Ways and Means has refused to spend money for public school textbooks not printed in the state printing plant.

The committee acted yesterday by refusing to add $2,555,129 to an appropriation for buying free textbooks for local school districts.

Hall said the extra money was needed to buy books from publishers who would not lease their plates to the state, thus preventing the state from publishing the books in its own printing plant.

He said the state Board of Education noted the higher cost at a meeting March 10, but voted to buy the books anyway, because they were "head and shoulders above comparable works."

But Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post argued that "quality is not related to cost at all." Post suggested that the committee learn why it should cost the publishers more to print the books than it would the state.

"I suspect this is a monopoly price," he said, after estimating that the purchase would cost the state four million dollars in the next eight years.

Hall said that the board had already agreed to buy the books. He said that the sale could be completed by using funds from a $12,362,065 appropriation to which the two million dollars was to have been added.

Measure To Allow Cigarette Tax Deduction Passed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — You could deduct your state cigarette tax from your federal and state income tax under a measure approved by the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee.

Approved yesterday the measure declares the state tax a direct levy on the consumer —thus qualifying it as deductible.

The bill, introduced by Assemblyman Milton Marks (R-San Francisco) will cut state revenues about $2,600,000 and county sales taxes by $635,000. This is because sales tax would be levied against the actual price of a pack of cigarettes rather than the price plus the three-cent cigarette tax as is done now.

The committee also approved a bill to cut $2,300,000 a year from bank and corporation taxes by lowering the minimum tax from $100 to $50. Assemblyman John A. Busterud (R-San Francisco) needed two Democratic votes to get his bill approved, the first tax-cutting measure allowed by the Assembly committee.

Wife Divorces Phone Official

Daisy C. Hollingsworth, 54, former member of the Marin County Probation Committee, won an interlocutory decree of divorce this week in Marin Superior Court.

Her husband, Lytle W. Hollingsworth, an official of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. in San Francisco, did not contest the action. Mrs. Hollingsworth testified that her husband stayed out late at nights, and ignored her and paid more attention to other guests during parties.

In an out-of-court settlement, he pays her $325 monthly support. The couple agreed to sell their Kentfield home and divide the proceeds.

State Mental Hospitals To Face Probe

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A special legislative committee to investigate state mental hospitals was created last night in the wake of escapes and slaying of an attendant at Atascadero.

The Assembly Ways and Means Committee set up the special investigation after approving an extra $200,000 to tighten basic security at the San Luis Obispo County institution for the criminally insane.

Dr. R. S. Rood, superintendent of the hospital, has been ordered to Sacramento to report on possible changes in personnel.

Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post told the committee he is concerned over what he called "a really astonishing attitude of personnel at Atascadero.

'Old Problems In Changing World' Theme Business Club

"Old Problems In A Changing World" is the subject of the address to be made by Anita Day Hubbard, San Francisco newspaper columnist who writes under the name of Good Neighbor when she speaks at the dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Marin County Tuesday night, March 22, at the Alta Mira Hotel, Sausalito.

Mrs. Hubbard who has solved many problems for young and old is now writing a series of articles on "Mature Living" to illustrate how the older citizens are making good use of their leisure. She is serving on several governmental committees which deal with problems of the aging.

Two young Marin County residents, Mickey Grady and John Pollock, will play accordion solos and duets during the dinner hour and in the social hour preceding it. Florence Donnelly is program chairman. Eulalie Field, club president, will conduct the brief business session. Members have the privilege of bringing guests to the 7:30 o'clock dinner.

The club is now sponsoring a new BPWC in Novato with Dorothy Olsen, past president of the parents club and a past president of Redwood Empire District BPWC, serving as chairman pro-tem. A dinner meeting of the new group will be held on April 5. The place will be announced later. Rene Lazzara and Mitzi Brown are serving as co-chairmen.

The Marin club will be the hostess organization at the Sunday morning breakfast of the convention of Redwood Empire District April 23 and 24 at El Rancho Motel, Santa Rosa. Jean Brown is chairman.

Square Dancers Greet Beginners At Dance Tonight

The Buzzin' Boots Square Dance Club will meet with their Beginners group at 9 o'clock tonight to welcome them into the Buddin' Booties, the Buzzin' Boots official premembership group.

Those being welcomed into the Buddin' Booties are Glen and Rose Davis, Norman and Eleanor Snellgrove, John and Anna Sherman, John and Joan Rutherford, Bruce and Lucille Schoenseed, Bill and Jean Asher, Jim and Barbara Blair, Bob and Joan Clayton, Rod Haake, Bob Tavey, Marita Gilla, Steve and Ina Stevenson, Floyd and Neva Van Ogle, John and Ellen Stone, John and Lucy Arms, and Bonnie Hicks.

Bill Owens will be the master of ceremonies for the evening.

The Senior Greeters, Faye and Bill Scovill and Mary and Tom Parisi will assist Bob Cooper, club president, with the ceremonies.

MRS. MATT GRAHAM, left, hands Sen. John F. McCarthy the charter which had just been presented to the newly formed Marin Chapter, State Federation of Republican Women's Clubs. Mrs. Graham, the chapter's new president, and these other members of the new organization, were in Sacramento Tuesday to receive their charter at the convention of the northern division of the state organization. The new group is a consolidation of two Republican women's groups in the county. Others on hand for the ceremony are, from left, Mrs. Edward Wiggins, Mrs. Lee Sherry, Mrs. Peter Caletti, Mrs. Oscar Samet, Miss Lydia Melone, Mrs. Janice Magee, and Mrs. Anna D'Anna.

Guild Plans Tour At Dessert Party

A dessert party to formulate plans for "Sophisticated Suburbia," the forthcoming 10th annual House Tour of St. Stephen's Guild of Belvedere, May 12, was held recently in the music room of the home of Mrs. David Winslow, Paradise drive, Tiburon.

Greeting guests was Mrs. Edwin Weed, president of the auxiliary, who introduced the chairman for the House Tour, Mrs. Vayron H. Montgomery.

Miss Barbara Bridge, a talented flower arranger who will be in charge of coordinating the flowers for the beautiful homes that will be open on May 12, planned the decor for the tea, a profusion of beautiful blossoms.

Transportation for the house tour will be furnished from the Village Green by a fleet of station wagons, according to Captain J. Nordmark Williams, who is making out the route for the cars which will shuttle around the island.

Of special interest at the tea was the presence of Everett Foster, distinguished singing coach from Santa Rosa (father of Mrs. John Hoefer, past president of St. Stephen's) who introduced his protege. She is Carolyn Elmer, a University of California student from Berkeley, who sang several numbers. She has recently won the Sonoma Etude Scholarship.

A piano solo given by Kathleen Winslow, an eighth grader at Country Day School who has an inimitable style and shows much promise.

Invitations are being extended for the 10th annual House Tour this year to all of the Episcopal groups in the Bay Area, according to Mrs. Montgomery, general chairman.

St. Brigid's Slides Talk Set Tuesday

Tuesday evening, March 22, St. Brigid's Guild of Christ Episcopal Church, Sausalito, will present the next in its series of "armchair travelogues."

Scheduled for 8:15 p.m. in the Guild Hall adjoining the church, Stanley Cowen will take the audience, via colored slides, over the route covered on an extensive South American cruise.

Mr. and Mrs. Cowen left San Francisco last August on the "Mor-Mac Gulf," a freighter accommodating 10 passengers and that was their "home" for 72 days. Their voyage took them through the Panama Canal, down the East coast of the continent, through the Strait of Magellan, and up the West Coast with many ports of call.

Mrs. Robert F. Crowell, as president of the Guild, has Mrs. James F. McIndoe as her chairman for the travel series.

Vine Trumbull Circle To See Film On Marin

The March 22 meeting of the Vine Trumbull Circle of the First Presbyterian Church will be held in the Geneva Room of the church at 8 o'clock.

The business session will be conducted by Mrs. William Wilson, president.

An interesting program has been arranged for the evening by Miss Gretchen Eden, program chairman. S. Thompson Walker, director of the Junior Museum of Marin County, will present a film entitled, "A Little Bit of Marin," showing the wildlife found in our county.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting

Attention is also called to the Annual Rummage Sale of the group to be held on March 31, April 1, and April 2 in the Church Hall.

Songs, Dances And Exhibits Featured At Brownie Program

Songs, dances and exhibits from foreign countries were featured at a recent Girl Scout World Friendship program presented by the Tiburon Peninsula Brownie troops at the Reed School Auditorium. The group included nine troops totaling 132 Brownies.

Announcer Mrs. Ethel W. Field, leader of Troop 96, led off the program with an introduction which was followed by the Brownie Scout Promise and a flag ceremony presented by Troop 96, which featured the American flag, Brownie flag and World Friendship flag.

Girls presenting the colors were in full uniform complete with white gloves. "Make New Friends" and "Brother John" were sung by the assembled Brownies under the direction of Mrs. Marian Norberg. An introduction of troops and their leaders was next on the program followed by presentation of the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund.

"The Brownie Story" in a home and woods setting was presented by Troop 19 under the direction of Mrs. Peggy Hoppe and Mrs. Perry Newman. "Fly-Up Brownies Become Girl Scouts," a narrative by ten talkative pajama bag puppets dressed like Brownies, was next on the program by Troop 96, assisted by Mrs. Ethel Field and Mrs. Marian Norberg.

Miss Etel Adhan from Beirut, Lebanon, teacher of esthetics at Dominican College, gave an informative talk on customs in Arabia and the fact that Girl Scouting has been recently introduced to the country.

Rodney Aya, outfitted in authentic Scotch kilts and playing the bagpipes, led Troop 54 onto the stage where the 16 Brownies performed with a Scottish dance directed by Mrs. Kay Hoefer and Mrs. Barbara Patten. A Japanese dance, led by a Japanese girl was next presented by Troop 49 directed by Mrs. Marge McDonogh and Mrs. Betty Frellson. Travelling to the other side of the world to visit the Emerald Isle were members of Troop 82 and guest harpist, Jean Leslie, who entertained in authentic costume with the rendition of an Irish lilt and a selection on the Irish harp.

Mrs. Elmer Johnson presented "Fun and Customs of Swedish Children" at which time Swedish refreshments were demonstrated and served to the group following the meeting. Troop 96 then sang "Girl Scouts Together" accompanied by all the Brownies and the audience. Tiburon Peninsula Brownie Troops welcomed their families, friends and visiting Brownie Troops 64, 42, 45 and 149 from Bel Aire who had held their World Friendship meeting in the Bel Aire School auditorium immediately preceding the Tiburon program.

Exhibits displayed by Strawberry Troops with all Brownies in costume included an exhibit of Bolivia, by Troop 24, led by Mrs. Helen Drolla and Mrs. Jennie Blaha; Argentina, by Troop 4, led by Mesdames Alice Lelish, Marge Milan and Vivian Johnson; Belgium, by Troop 113, led by Mrs. Hilda Helmer and Mrs. Sheley Monoogan, and Japan, by Troop 62, led by Mesdames Shirley Fischer, Evon Rogers, Shirley Cain and Donna Kinney.

SCHOLARSHIP DEADLINE SET

Mrs. William D. (Ada) Fusselman of San Anselmo, chairman of the career advancement committee of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Marin County, states that applications for the new Alice Brewer Wells scholarship should be made with her before April 15.

The $200 grant in memory of a beloved Marin County educator, is available to high school senior girls. On Mrs. Fusselman's committee are Letha Jenkins, Maude Gardner and Dorothy Olsen. With the club president, Eulalie Field, they will decide which girl merits the scholarship.

Marin Women

'Community Needs' Will Be Topic Of Marin AAUW

Four outstanding Marinites, have been invited by Marin Branch, AAUW, to discuss the vital subject of "Community Needs" at its general meeting on March 21, at 8 p.m. in the art room of San Rafael High School.

Mrs. Mary Summers, county planning director, will discuss some of Marin's plans for the 1960s; Mrs. Norman Livermore, president of the Marin Conservation League, will tell what is being done and what needs to be done in the field of conservation; Caroline Rose, an attorney and president of the Marin Volunteers, an auxiliary to the Senior Center, will talk on the project; and Nicholas Suntzoff, head of the Family Service Agency, will tell of the work of this organization and its future plans.

The branch's social and economic issues chairman, Mrs. Paul Wilson, has indicated that it is the intent of AAUW to acquaint its members and all other interested people with the social and economic problems here in Marin which need resolving and perhaps to decide upon a way in which something can be done.

An exhibit of art work by the students of Edward Day, San Rafael High art teacher, will be on display in the room where the meeting is to be held.

The public is invited to this meeting.

Mrs. Fozdar To Address The Baha'is

Mrs. Shirin Fozdar, outstanding worker for the advancement of Asian women, will address a Baha'i gathering of the Bay Area, on Wednesday, March 23, 8 p.m. at the convention hall, Whitcomb Hotel, in San Francisco. Her topic will be: "Peace Through Religion."

Mrs. Fozdar is honorary general secretary and founder of the Singapore Council of Women, having a membership of one thousand women. She organized the women of Singapore to fight for their rights in Singapore and Malaya. Her fight bore fruit with the result that new laws have been drafted to be put into effect shortly, protecting women against easy divorces and making monogamy the basis of marriage, abolishing the centuries old practice of polygamy.

While in India Mrs. Fozdar was on the executive committee of the All-India Educational Federation. She is an educationalist and a journalist, having studied journalism in England. She has worked among the untouchables in India and fought for their rights and their uplift. When in 1941 there were communal riots at their height in Ahmedabad, India, Mahatma Gandhi requested her to deliver lectures in that riot torn city and bring the communities together.

Panel Discussion Is Program For Laurel Dell P-TA

Laurel Dell P-TA met recently with Mrs. Lester Ecke, president, presiding. Pack 30, Den 3 members, Ricky Bottarini, Johnny Cardoza, Georgie Coleman and Stephen Lee presented colors and led the salute to the flag.

After brief introductions, Mrs. Julia Fry, first grade teacher, Miss Barbara Poole, fourth grade teacher, and Mrs. Diane Farmer were presented gifts and honored as the teachers of the month.

Mrs. Bonnie Liljenberg, program chairman, introduced the speakers for the panel discussion, "Your Child and His Growing Pains." Dr. S. L. LeCount of the College of Marin, served as the panel moderator. Others on the panel were L. H. Albrecht of the YWCA, Don Miller of the County Probation Office, Miss Poole, fourth grade teacher, and two sixth grade students, "Tish" Gallivan and Dick Berling.

Fourth grade room mothers, Mrs. Clarence Geiler, Mrs. William Beatty and Mrs. Kenneth Durham, under the leadership of Mrs. Jean Farraday, served coffee and cake.

Fire Auxiliary Has Installation Dinner

The new officers of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Mill Valley Association of Volunteer Firemen, were installed at a recent installation dinner held at Deer Park Meadows Villa.

Sea Point Corps Aides Hosting Dance Party

Sea Point Drum and Bugle Corps Auxiliary begins the new season with a St. Patrick's dance and buffet supper, at the Drum Corp's hall in Sausalito, tomorrow night at nine o'clock. The gala evening is open to members, family and guests. The proceeds of this affair will go to fund for assisting the junior members of the corps.

The corps at present has openings for musicians, who would like to wear attractive green and white uniforms and help them to add a few more trophies to their collection.

Reservations for Saturday night's party may be made with Donald Flash, secretary.

Marvin Travis To Claim Bride Soon

Engagement of Mary Lou Garnett and Marvin Carlton Travis has been announced. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Henry Garnett of Cabot, Ark. Mr. and Mrs. H. Carlton Travis of Woodacre are parents of the future benedict. The young lady is a graduate of Cabot High School and Arkansas State Teachers College and is a member of Baptist Student Union and Phi Beta Lambda. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. D. J. Garnett of Weslaco, Tex.

The future benedict, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Lovell of Alpine, N.Y. and the late Rev. and Mrs. O. H. Travis of Towanda, Pa., is a graduate of Reno High School and College of Marin. Te intends to continue his studies in electrical engineering at San Jose State College. He and his bride will live in San Jose following their marriage at Mt. Carmel Baptist Church in Cabot on April 14. He was a member of the Veterans Club at College of Marin. He is the brother of Weldon C., Janine, Auralee, and Carla E. Travis, all of Woodacre.

The bride-elect is the sister of Clovis Lee Garnett of Medford, Ore. and James and Joseph Garnett of Cabot.

Trade Whims To Be Theme Of Focus Show On Tuesday

"Down Where the Trade Whims Blow" is the especially appropriate title selected for the next of the Fashion Focus series of luncheons, to be held Tuesday, March 22 at Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

For "Trade Whims" is the name of the thrift shop which the Marin Volunteers, honored community service group for that day, have opened in the basement of the Senior Citizens Center at 1825 Fourth St., San Rafael. Proceeds from the shop benefit the Center and help support the program for Senior Citizens.

These will be shown by eight Marin County models, including Mrs. Ray Brusati of Santa Venetia who is president of the Volunteers, Mesdames Frank Soares Jr. and Alex Bovee of San Rafael, new members of the group and William Donohue of Terra Linda, George Berticevich and E. R. Jerome of Tiburon and Tami Evans and Sharon Ghilotti. Miss Evans, who is from Mill Valley, was recently chosen Miss Marin.

Reservations for the 12:30 luncheon may be made by calling Rickey's. The weekly series is open to the public.

The Volunteers are also planning a rummage sale from March 30 to April 2 at the old Poehlmann Drug Store at Fourth and C streets in San Rafael. Saleable merchandise for both the sale and the shop is needed and donations may be left at the Center.

The organization is open to anyone interested in supporting the program for the Senior Citizens. Information may be obtained by calling the Center.

'DOWN WHERE THE TRADE Whims Blow" will be the theme on Tuesday when Fashion Focus spotlights the Marin Volunteers. Members of the volunteers pictured here in a nautical setting include Mrs. George Berticevich, front, and from left, Mesdames Alex Bovee and Frank Soares Jr. The luncheon is held at Rickey's Rancho Rafael beginning at 12:30 o'clock. Charm Course To Conclude With Show

Young charm wrapped in Easter frocks and studied poise clad in sports togs will be the essence of a style show to be presented Wednesday, March 23 from 7:15 p.m. to 8:15 p.m. at the Henry C. Hall School in Larkspur.

Sixth, seventh and eighth grade Camp Fire Girls will conclude a Charm Course by modeling spring and summer clothes. Harry Bell made the presentation possible.

The models, chosen from the class, will be Stephine Curtis, Claudia Kendall, and Linda Crebassa from San Anselmo, Frances Adams from Larkspur, Lynn Kopan and Maureen Hayes from Mill Valley, Gail Egan and Nancy Norton from Greenbrae, Cathy Magruder, Marion Gilboy, Ann Stephens, Lorene Lynch, Terry Ahearn, Ann Woodhall, and Karen Brainard from Kentfield, and Susan Schioldager, Judy Jones, Susan Manley, Lynnette McSweeney and Sue Ray from San Rafael.

Mrs. Ann Demeter, a director of the House of Charm of San Francisco, who has been the instructor of the course, will be the commentator. Parents and friends are invited to attend.

MV School Plans Benefit Movie

"The Four Poster," starring Rex Harrison and Lili Palmer, will be shown at 8:15 p.m. tomorrow at the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Clubhouse on Maple street.

The movie is being sponsored by the Mill Valley Cooperative Nursery School as a fund raising event. Proceeds will help support a dance class taught every Wednesday morning by Collie Goldsmith of the Ann Halprin Dance School.

Refreshments of coffee, cold drinks and pastries will be prepared and sold by nursery school mothers.

Tickets may be reserved by phoning ways and means chairman Mrs. Robert Alexander, who lives at 11 Morning Sun, Mill Valley.

PI BETA PHI ELECT STAFF

At a meeting and tea of Pi Beta Phi alumnae of Marin County at the home of Mrs. John Buresh on Wednesday, officers for the coming term were elected. These are Mrs. Dan Anderson, president; Mrs. Burton Bergstrom, vice president; Mrs. Gifford Von Kaesborg, recording secretary; Mrs. John Herrmann, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Murray B. Peterson, treasurer.

They succeed Mrs. Charles Stuart, president; Mrs. William Berzman, vice president; Mrs. Bergstrom, recording secretary; Mrs. James Wilbee, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Murray Peterson, treasurer.

Community Club Has Bridge Party

Mrs. Charles Clarkson and Mrs. Denver Wilson were hostesses at the monthly bridge party of the Novato Community Club held recently.

Bridge was played at seven tables with honors for the afternoon going to Mrs. John T. Morris and Mrs. A. P. Garrotti.

Mrs. W. T. Simmons and Mrs. William Hanen will be hostesses at the next party to be held in the Community Club on Monday, April 4. Everyone is invited. Guests do not have to bring their own partners.

Tam High Seniors Set Rummage Sale

"Someone else's white elephant can be your buried treasure," Tamalpais High School seniors are telling everyone in preparation for their annual rummage sale.

This year it will be held on March 25 and 26 in the boys' gymnasium. Anyone having usable, saleable items to donate is requested to call Bill Emerson, senior class president, who will arrange pickup service.

Proceeds will be used for the annual senior ball.

Retired Teachers Pot Luck Dinner To Be Thursday

Mrs. Eleanor Murray, president of the Marin Division of Retired Teachers, has announced that the next meeting will be a pot luck supper to be held Thursday, March 24, at 6:30 p.m. in the multipurpose room of the Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo. All retired teachers in the area are invited to attend.

After the supper Lyman Mitchell, who represented the Marin Division at the C.T.R.T Board meeting recently at a meeting in Fresno, will report the proceedings.

Also on the program will be "capsule" autobiographies of Homer Hildebrandt, Al Juch, Jack Uhte, Flora Scott and Lois Walker. Election of a nominating committee who will present a slate of officers at the May meeting will follow.

Convention Report Given To Nurses

Attending the state convention in Los Angeles were Mrs. Marian Lendus, Mrs. Juliette Quinn, Miss Vera Watson, Mrs. Patricia Leonard, and Miss Mary Robinson.

Nursery School To Have Doctor As Guest Speaker

The movie, "Angry Boy," presented modern psychology as related to the troubled child and how he was helped through the facilities of the Child Guidance Clinic.

Discussion following was led by Robert Davidson, psychologist, of the Mill Valley School District office. Emphasis was on aggression in the normal child.

Monday, March 21, the movie will be "Feelings of Hostility," the case history of a girl who, lacking love and affection at home, substitutes achievement at school.

The discussion and question period will be directed by Dr. Esther Somerfeld-Ziskind, who is on the staff of the University of Southern California Medical School. She was the head of the department of psychiatry at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital in Los Angeles. Emphasized will be recognizing and dealing with hostility in normal children.

Dr. Somerfeld-Ziskind is also a pioneer in the group therapy movement and divides her practice bteween adults and children.

Marin County's Ticket Chairman For Third Tour De Decors Listed

The Tour de Decors, sponsored by the Women's Board of the San Francisco Museum of Art, will be held from May 4 through May 8, 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. in San Francisco. It is an exhibition of coordinated creative and decorative ideas in art, homes, and fashions.

The theme this year will be "San Francisco Counterpoint," emphasizing designs which are uniquely San Francisco in character. Outstanding decorations will create exciting and original interiors, some in their own studios, others in the San Francisco Museum of Art.

For the model rooms displayed in the Museum itself, John Lord King, Belvedere architect, has designed a special installation featuring a cyclical lighting system which alternately shows each room in daylight and night-time illumination. Landscape architect Lawrence Halprin of Kentfield is designing the landscape setting for these rooms, and he is also transforming the Rotunda Gallery of the Museum into a landscaped town plaza setting where fashions will be shown daily from 4 to 4:30 o'clock. Tea will be served in the Rotunda at 3:30 and 4:30.

In addition, a Pavillion of Dining Decors, consisting of table settings by noted California hostesses will be displayed. Menus and recipes will be available, and clothes from a San Francisco store will be modeled. Other fashions from stores will be modeled in the individual decorator's studios.

A magazine which will act as a complete guide to all Tour exhibits will be given to all ticket purchasers.

Special luncheons at four of San Francisco's leading dinner restaurants are being planned in connection with the tour, with seatings at 12 and 1:30. Reservations must be made directly with the restaurants. Luncheon schedule as follows: Blue Fox, Ernie's, Place Pigalle and Nikko's.

Many of Marin County's 300 Museum members are serving on the ticket committee, along with interested supporters of the Museum. Marin County chairman is Mrs. Stephen M. Heller, and co-chairman is Mrs. John Kittle. The Area chairmen and assistants are as follows:

Belvedere and Tiburon: chairman, Mrs. Neville Rich; assistants, Mesdames W. T. Brantman, Eugene Wheary, Robert Wineman, Tracey McCarley, J. R. Hofmann, John Lord King, James Michael, and Thomas Stanton.

Auction, Visit Planned At Meet Of M.V. Rebekah

Highlights of the recent meeting of Blythedale Rebekah Lodge 305 in the Mill Valley Odd Fellows Temple, were formulation of plans for a silent auction at the March 24 meeting and for the April 14 official visit of Mrs. Harry E. Wall, district deputy grand president of District 61.

During the meeting conducted by noble grand Mrs. Eldora Clinton, Mrs. John Luetke, district good fellowship chairman, announced that plans are being made to visit the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs Children's Home in Gilroy early in June.

Mrs. Wall was present and gave instructions on lodge work. A St. Patrick's theme was carried out in green paper decorations at officers' stations and on tables where refreshments were served by a commitee composed of Mesdames Luetke, James Rhoades and Ama Hicks.

Women Of Faith Meet In Greenbrae

At the March meeting of the Women of Faith held at the home of Mrs. William Wankowski of Greenbrae, Mrs. Theodore E. Bachmann spoke to the day and evening circles on her recent stay in South America.

Mrs. Bachmann, holder of a master's degree in Church Education spoke on life in Brazil from the experiences she and her husband encountered while living with the people of that country. Mrs. Bachmann, wife of Dr. Bachmann, professor of Church History and Missions at Pacific Lutheran Seminary at Berkeley, spent last year in Brazil serving at the Lutheran Theological Seminary.

While there Mrs. Bachmann taught English at the Pre-Theological School as well as in the Cultural Institute where people of various backgrounds and religions came to learn English. On display, were many attractive articles of clothing, pottery, silver and jewelry which she brought back from South America with her.

CROSS-COUNTRY TRAVELER?

Vivian Neal, 12, of Pacoima, hugs a mixed-breed collie which she and her family believe is the same dog they left behind in Owensboro, Ky., seven months ago when they moved to the Los Angeles suburb. The dog was spotted limping along a Pacoima street last week by Vivian's father, Allen Neal. Neal said the family left the dog behind with his brother in Kentucky because there was no room in the car when they made the move to California. He believes the dog then made his way across the country by himself. (AP Wirephoto)

Larkspur Sets Forum For Candidates

Candidates for Larkspur city councilman, clerk and treasurer in the April 12 municipal election will have an opportunity to present their views on local issues March 28 at a public candidates' forum in Larkspur City Hall.

Sponsored by the Larkspur Chamber of Commerce, the forum will start at 8 p.m. in the city council chamber. Each candidate will be allotted five minutes for his opening comments. The talks will be followed by a question period.

Invited to speak are council candidates Albert E. Heston, Orrin W. Gray and Mayor Daniel Allen, all incumbents, Jane Epidendio, Charles F. Schneider, James J. Lienkaemper, David B. McDougall, Lesly A. Daveler and Paul J. Keever; city clerk aspirants Helen S. Wilson, incumbent, and Anne E. Smart, and unopposed incumbent treasurer William S. Osborne.

Youth Admits Stealing 2 Novato Cars

A 14-year-old boy from St. Vincent's School stole two cars in rapid succession Wednesday night for a joy ride from Novato to Marinwood and back to Novato.

Sheriff's deputies caught the boy at the school and cited him to appear before the probation office. The boy admitted stealing both cars, according to Sheriff's Deputy Harold Goerndt.

While investigating the Marinwood theft, Deputy Goerndt discovered Edwards' station wagon parked at the Marinwood parking lot. The officer got this admission from the boy: The youngster stole Edwards' station wagon from Novato, abandoned it at Marinwood, then hopped in Powell's car and drove back to the Novato Theater, where he abandoned the car.

Powell's vehicle was found in Novato.

THEY'RE 'GO-KARTS'

Dealership Set Up To Handle Tiny Racers

You can really go in a "kart" if it's a "go-kart," according to B. W. Clements of San Rafael.

In partnership with P. Van Dalen, Clements has organized Marin County's first exclusive dealership to handle tiny skeleton race vehicles which have suddenly developed a nationwide craze.

Airport Kart Co. will operate at 52 Belvedere street and has a lease on runways of the abandoned San Rafael airport, strips of which make ideal speedways for this type of "bug."

The new firm has an agency for the Putt-Nik kart and is angling for another make. To be handled at present are three models of karts plus a scooter.

Single-cylinder two-cycle engines developing two and one-half horsepower are used in all models the company will handle, finish and refinement of the low-priced karts varying somewhat.

"The kart isn't a child's toy but is for the whole family," said Clements today. "Race and sports car drivers find they still have something to learn when they get at the controls of these little cars, which seem tremendously fast but actually go only 30 to 35 miles an hour.

"They are the cheapest and safest race vehicles on wheels, but they handle like lightning and you're so close to the ground you think you are going like a shot. No gears to handle — just one gear and one brake."

As soon as a few enthusiasts are ready, the new firm plans to sponsor a Marin kart club and organize races. Karts are strictly for fun and not licensed or intended for highway use.

Club Directors Plan Program Of Activities

Plans to offer activities for children, teen-agers and adults were discussed at the first session of the newly elected board of governors and officers of the Homestead Valley Improvement Club this week at Brown's Hall, Mill Valley.

New officers present were Johanna Schlesinger, president; William Gealey, vice president; Ann Treverton, acting secretary; Tim Kelly, treasurer; and board members Chris Bratt, Thelma Mamura, Frank Martinez, Gregory McCaughan, Roscoe McIntosh, Robert Pitts, Alan Shelmerdine, Virginia Spaulding, Bernard Tombelaine and Gus Wolf.

Discussing the proposal to sell Brown's Hall, landscape architect Robert Royston, a member of the Homestead club, urged keeping the hall as club property and a center for community activities.

Residents Of Terra Linda Unit Consider Organization

Warren C. Hamilton, who acted as temporary chairman of an organizational meeting Monday, said the purpose of the group would be "to have an official voice on matters that pertain to the valley."

He said such a group might want to become part of a large valley home owners group if all of Terra Linda is annexed to San Rafael.

Hamilton said residents of the area never have received "a satisfactory answer from the directors of the CSD on fire protection." The area's only fire protection is by county fire department.

He said block leaders were appointed at Monday's meeting "to kick our ideas around." Another meeting will be held at 8 p.m. next Monday at the Hoffman School. "At that time," Hamilton said, "we probably will decide for sure if we are going to have an association."

Chamber Plans Book To Advertise Marin

Plans for publication of an official book to advertise Marin County have been announced by the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce. Businesses are being solicited for individual advertisements.

The book will be used as an official mailing piece for the next three years, according to the chamber. Sale by news stands is contemplated also.

Square Dance Set

The Stump Jumpers will hold a square dance tomorrow from 8:30 p.m. to midnight at the IDESI Hall, Sweetzer and Machin streets, Novato. Bud Wire will call the dances.

Novato Youngster Hit By Automobile

A child who ran into the path of an automobile in Novato Wednesday afternoon was knocked seven and one-half feet and suffered head cuts.

Garry Sakaye, 2, son of Lt. and Mrs. Arthur Sakaye of 1349 Cambridge street, dashed out as Verna E. Schwartz, 31, of 580 Sunset parkway, Novato, was approaching at a speed estimated at 25 miles an hour.

Miss Schwartz, a San Rafael supermarket employee, told the California Highway Patrol that, when she applied her brakes, the car skidded into the child.

The little boy was taken to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital and later removed to Letterman Army Hospital in San Francisco, where his condition was termed good.

Hub Help Cautioned About Electioneering

City employees of San Anselmo have been cautioned by Douglas Flautt, city administrator, that they are not to electioneer in the municipal election.

Flautt said the notice was "routine," adding "after all four people are running for two offices." He said the notice was authorized by city council members.

SMALL-FRY BOWLERS

Indicative of the interest in the sport among the younger set, American Junior Bowling Congress membership has grown from 8,700 in 1946 to 217,000 this year. Altogether, bowling in the United States claims over 26 million participants. It is now the most popular indoor sport in the country.

Recently, one of the biggest get-togethers of young bowling enthusiasts took place at Fair Lawn, N. J., when over 200 boys and girls, from 7 to 18, attended the Fair Lawn Lanes first junior bowling clinic to learn the fundamentals of the game. The instructors were champion bowlers.

"The youngsters were very tense at first," said one of the instructors, "Tex" Salzer, champion woman bowler of Passaic County, N.J., "but relaxed after instruction."

When the clinic ended, three leagues of bantams (7 to 12), juniors (13 to 15) and seniors (16 to 18) were formed, and tournament play will soon get under way.

"Watch me, everybody!" Ten-year-old Tim Broderick stands proudly behind foul line ready for "push-away." Sitting on ball and awaiting his turn is Henry Michalski, 9.

Hats Off To School Nurse; She's Wonderful Friend To Our Children

She's well educated. She has a registered nurse degree. After that she may have taken more work, and earned a public health certificate.

She knows what she's doing. She's busier than cranberry merchants used to be. If your child gets hurt, she's Johnny-on-the-spot. She gives him first aid. She calls you and helps get a doctor.

She examines your children if they get sick at school. She takes them home, if you can't come for them. She makes sure they are well when they come back. She is exposed to every disease, but rarely gets sick herself. I wonder why?

She is a teacher. Other teachers go to her for help when they have lessons on nutrition, first aid or health. She has many charts, posters, booklets. The teaching side of her job is growing each year.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "The books I've read on children's growth have a lot to do with their bodies, and not enough to do with their minds. Is there any book which doesn't have this weakness?" B.B.D.

(A) Yes. Get Dr. Flander Dunbar's "Your Child's Mind and Body," a Modern Library Paperback, published by Random House, New York. Dr. Dunbar is a famous psychiatrist. She gives adequate attention to the mental and emotional growth of children.

20 Firms Submit School Item Bids

Bids for approximately $20,000 worth of materials were received yesterday.

Several days will be needed to tabulate the bids on nearly 200 items, but it is planned to have a report on the bidding prepared for a meeting of the board of education Tuesday.

Novato Club Planning To Beautify Avenue

If the executive board of the Novato Community Club receives the planning commission's approval to plant the trees, the proposal will be placed before club members to decide if they want to make the planting a club project, said member Marian Merritt today.

Just To Show Them

DES MOINES (AP)—It's an ill wind . . .

Friends and clients told a Des Moines lawyer he should carpet the tiled floor of his office. But he wouldn't budge. A conspiracy developed, and after he was lured from his office, his furniture was removed and the floor covered with wall-to-wall burlap.

The attorney took up the burlap, toted it home, and plans to use it in collecting leaves he rakes next fall.

Orders To Clancy

CASPER, Wyo. (AP)—The doctor says Clancy MacGillicuddy has to cut down his television viewing time.

Clancy was returned home from the hospital and is convalescing from an operation for eye cataracts which the doctor said resulted from too much time in front of the TV set.

Larkspur Trustees To Consider Costs Of School Lunches

A comparative cost report on two types of school lunch programs in Larkspur School District will be given to the district board Tuesday by Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel.

An experimental program at Henry C. Hall School involves the use of frozen, packaged, heat-and-serve lunches. Seidel will compare their costs with those of locally cooked lunches served at Neil Cummins and Larkspur-Corte Madera Schools.

The board also will continue its general review of the district's 1960-61 budgetary requirements. The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. in Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

Dick Haymes Files For Bankruptcy

NEW YORK (AP)—Singer Dick Haymes filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy yesterday listing $5,493 in assets and $522,242 in liabilities.

In his petition, the 41-year-old Haymes listed 246 creditors, including former wives Joanne Dru, $20,000 and Nora Eddington, $11,000. Both have accused him of being in arrears in alimony or support payments.

Democratic Chairman To Head Miller Drive

Harold Morgan, chairman of the Marin County Democratic Central Committee, and resident of 230 Summit avenue, Mill Valley, has been named 1960 county campaign chairman for Rep. Clement W. Miller (D-Corte Madera).

Mrs. Samuel Swadesh of 31 Millsdale lane, Mill Valley, was also named as a co-chairman for the campaign, along with Tom Bair of Arcata.

Painting Demonstration At College Scheduled

A lecture-demonstration of watercolor painting will be given by Dr. Marques E. Reitzel at 2 p.m. Tuesday in Room 67 of the College of Marin Art Building.

TD Passes

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI)—Babe Parilli, Green Bay Packer quarterback, established a collegiate record for touchdown passes in a season when he completed 23 of them while playing with the University of Kentucky in 1950.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Plus Guest House
Almost 1½ Acres

Magnificent secluded view setting. 18 x 36 pool, BBQ and covered dining terrace. Elaborate modern guest house that would make perfect in-law quarters. Main house has 3 bedrooms, 2 baths and a large family room. This home is now too large for present owners and they are anxious to see some young family acquire it that have children to enjoy all the wonderful facilities. They will assist substantially with the financing and offer a low rate of interest so there is no "tight money" problem here. It is indeed a rare opportunity and you should investigate. Ask for JOHN or ALICE WOODSON (eves. GL 4-5786).

BEEN SHOPPING?
If you've been home shopping in the county, you know that this is a rare find, indeed! 2 full bedrooms, PLUS a DEN, plus full 14 x 20 dining room. AND, it's well located in KENTFIELD near very fine schools and the College of Marin. Wonder of wonders, at this price, many extras are included: wall to wall carpeting, lots of cupboard and closet space, and yes, a huge brick fireplace wall. Full patio, with view of Mt. Tamalpais. HURRY ON THIS!

SPARKLING NEW
Not a tract! 2 brand new homes, all with the latest innovations: perimeter heat, electric kitchens, lavishly finished in formica counters and mahogany cabinets. 3 large bedrooms, 2 full ceramic tile baths; lovely brick fireplaces. The double garages have separate doors, allowing you to convert one half to a play room, or hobby shop. Lovely country setting, yet close to all San Anselmo elementary schools, transportation, and shopping. Know the thrill of being the very first family to live here! Choose yours today!

IMPOSSIBLE!
It may seem impossible, but we are able to show a 4 bedroom home with 2½ baths plus elec. kitchen and a great big family room for the just listed price of $28,950. Location too is excellent in modern Hawthorne Hills. On the level the home boasts a clear view of Mt. Tamalpais and Ross Valley. Especially nice is the fact the family room and one bedroom and ½ bath are below the main living area of the house. No need to have your large and lovely living room, with towering brick fireplace wall, cluttered with children's toys and play equipment. There's a separate utility room for storage, sewing or what-ever-you-wish. Financing? Yes! Present setup calls for $7,950 down, pay approx. $155 per month. Could it be any easier to put your family into the home they deserve?

WHY GREENBRAE?
In case you have been wondering why so many find this area desirable, let us tell you — Greenbrae has good climate — an extensive shopping center — College of Marin nearby — and it's a quick commute to S.F. This house, in particular, offers the best in living! 2200 square feet, in this beautifully designed home near parochial and public schools 3 large bedrooms, 2¼ baths. It has a separate dining room, large living room, fireplace, and wonderful floor plan. Luxurious carpeting and drapes throughout go with the home. Lanai, barbeque, and complete outdoor living area. So many improvements, you must see it. If you like Greenbrae, you'll love this home!

11 Marin Catholic High Students Win Awards

Eleven students in Marin County Catholic high schools have been named for National Merit Scholarship Awards, according to Rev. John T. Foudy, superintendent of schools, Archdiocese of San Francisco.

The two finalist winners from Marin Catholic High School are Thomas J. Mellon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Mellon of 4 Rock road, Kentfield, and Arthur J. Quinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Quinn of 2 East street, San Rafael.

The one semi-finalist winner in the county is Thomas J. Hall, a student at Marin Catholic School and the son of Mr. and Mrs. David J. Hall of Tucson, Ariz.

The Dominican winners are Judith Boss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Boss, Jr., of 1228 Grand avenue, San Rafael; Susannah Leonard, daughter of Mrs. Moshe Shifrine of Route 1, Box 11, Vacaville; Joyce La Fontaine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur La Fontaine of 428 Forbes avenue, San Rafael, and Mary Teresa Malley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Malley of 2 Welcome lane, San Rafael.
